DR. BOOKER T. LOSES HIS CASE

Henry A. Ulrich Acquitted for Assaulting Negro Educator in New York.

SAYS HE WAS NOT "PEEPING"

Into the Key Hole, and That He Positively Did Not Greet Mrs. Alvarez With "Hello Sweetheart."

New York, Nov. 6.—Booker T. Washington, the noted negro educator, failed to obtain satisfaction at law today for the beating which he received at the hands of Henry A. Ulrich, a white man on Sunday evening, March 19th last. Ulrich was acquitted in the Court of Special Sessions this afternoon on the charge of assault which Dr. Washington had preferred against him.

After the fight which started in the vestibule of an apartment house where Ulrich lived at 11 1-2 East Sixty-third street, Dr. Washington was laid up at the hospital for several days with his right ear torn, his scalp cut and his face badly bruised. Provocation which the defense attempted to show today were based mainly on the testimony of Ulrich, who declared that he found Dr. Washington peeping into the key hole of his apartment and also the one opposite and that Dr Washington struck the first blow; also the story of Mrs. Laura Alvarez with whom Ulrich boarded, who swore that when she passed Dr. Washington he said to her: "Hello, Sweetheart."

Dr. Washington's story on the stand today was the same explanation he offered at the time of the altercation. He swore that he was not peeping into key holes, that he was only searching the tenant's directory in an effort to find a family with whic. he understood a friend was stopping and denied positively that he had spoken to Mrs. Alvarez or any other woman.

The acquittal of Ulrich was not unanimous, Justice O'Keefe dissenting from the opinions of Justices Moss and Zeller. After Uulrich left the court he was arrested again charged with being a fugitive from New Jersey where an indictment has been found, charging him with deserting his wife who lives in Orange.

Dr. Washington, when asked if he had any comment to make on the outcome of his case, replied: "No, not a word."

Both Ulrich and Washington told their stories on the stand today.

"I first saw Mr. Washington peeping through the key hole of my door,' Ulrich said. "He saw me and left and walked toward Eighth avenue. I saw him walking up and down the street and in a few minutes he came back, walked by Mr. Revelles apartment window and stopped to look beneath the shade.

"I opened the vestibule door and burst in upon him and shouted: 'What are you doing here?' He struck me in the face and then we fought. He asked me to let it drop.' Dr. Washington said: 'I know I have done wrong. Let me go.' While we were fighting he struck his head against a fire hydrant."

"Did you have any stick or other weapon with which you hit Dr. Washington."

"No, sir. I used no stick."

Mrs. Laura Alvarez on the stand said: "When I went out on the night of March 19th, to take out my dog, I found Dr. Washington crouching down in front of Mr. Revelle's apartment, peeping through the key hole. I came upon him so suddenly that he had no time to straighten up and I almost fell over him. He got up flustered and hurried out."

Later she said she saw Dr. Washington near Broadway.

"He followed me down to the house," went on Mrs. Alvarez. "I was so frightened. I ran past him."

"What did Washington say to you?"

"He said: 'Hello, sweetheart.'"

"What did you do then?"

"I ran into the house and told Mr. Ulrich. He then went into the hall and I saw him talking to Washington. Mr. Ulrich asked him what he was doing and I saw Washington strike at him."

Booker T. Washington, in relating his story, said it was about a quarter past nine when he was in Ulrich's home.

"The defendant ran into the hallway and assaulted me," he said. "He grabbed me by the throat and choked me and hit me with his fists. I tried to defend myself, but he was getting the better of me and I opened the door and stepped into the street. There were two men on the street and Ulrich asked one of them for a stick he carried. He hit me a dozen times, I should say, with the stick.

"I said to him: 'Don't beat me in this way. If I'm breaking the law call an officer and have him arrest me if I am doing anything wrong.'

When I reached Central Park west, I was so weak that I fell."

"What were you doing there?" asked Justice Zeller.

"I was looking at the door plates," said the educator.

"You went to that house two or three times?" asked Mr. Moore, on cross-examination.,

"I went first at about a quarter to nine," the witness said. I was looking for a friend."

"A white or colored?"

"The assistant district attorney objected, but was overruled.

"They were white," replied Washington.

TWO MORE WILL ACCUSE HER

More Witnesses Come Forward Yesterday Who Probably Know Something About Mrs. Vermilya and Poisoning

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Two new witnesses came forward today to accuse Mrs. Louise Vermilya, the widow arrested on charges of poisoning Policeman Arthur Bissonette, of having knowledge of the manner in which some of the eight other persons who have died beneath her roof of similar ailments came to their death.

Their identity was disclosed by Coroner Peter Hoffman after the widow had been served with a warrant and after she had been moved to the county jail, where she apparently is recovering from the effort on Saturday to poison herself.

Acting on the story of one of the witnesses, the coroner left to exhume the body of Frank Brinkamp, son of Mrs. Virmilya's first husband, and one of the first of those to succumb to the attacks of acute stomach disorders. The grave is in Waldeheim cemetery, near Chicago.

Arthur F. Bissonnette, father of the dead policeman, was one of the new witnesses, and he disclosed himself as another who had encountered the mysterious stomach complaint while in the Vermiya home. From that encounter, he said, he still suffered.

The other witness was Miss Elizabeth Nolan, former fiancee of Frank Brinkamp, who, in an affidavit charged that her intended husband had made statements on his death bed virtually charging his step-mother with having "done away with him."

Bissonnette said: "I went to visit my son the day before he was taken to the hospital. I had two meals at the Vermilya home. After eating ham and eggs, on which I put pepper from a tin box, I had severe pains in my stomach. I got an emetic at a drug store and was relieved for a while, but the pains still are with me."

Miss Nolan's affidavit brought in the name of Undertaker C. C. Boysen, who has been mentioned by a number of persons interrogated concerning the poisoning of Bissonnette and concerning the systerious death of another Vermilya roomer, Conductor Richard T. Smith. She averred that young Brinkamp on his death bed said to his mother: "Well, I'm about done for; you might as well let Boysen come and buay men."

She also declared young Brinkamp said repeatedly he was "going the way Dad did," and that he had expressed to her his suspicions that his father did not die of natural causes.

WHITAKER ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Virginia League Baseball In State of Wrangling at Present.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 26.—As a result of conduct of the annual meeting here today of the Virginia League, a class C., baseball organization, the league as at present constituted will not exist next Summer unless Richmond, Lynchburg and Danville, the opposition, and Petersburg, Norfolk and Roanoke, stand-patters, get together.

No business was transacted, the meeting breaking up in a row after Norfolk's proxy vote for re-election of C. R. Williams, of Roanoke, president, had been rejected. Petersburg and Roanoke withdrew. The three clubs remaining went through the process of having W. B. Bradley, of Richmond, in the chair, declare F. W. Whitaker, of Lynchburg, elected president by a vote of 3 to 2, and adjourned to meet at the call of the new president in January. Mr. Williams declared he would hold office of president until a successor is regularly chosen and would take the case to the Supreme Court, if necessary. Petersburg announced that if the election of Whitaker stands he can negotiate the sale of the Petersburg franchise. Roanoke also expressed a desire to sell if Whitaker holds as president.

The usual time for these annual meetings is the latter part of May, but the date was advanced this year because of the importance of the tariff legislation which is scheduled to come before Congress.

CITY OF PEKING HAS FALLEN?

Reports to That Effect Received in Shanghai are Uncertain.

STATES THAT EMPORER FLED

Also Reported That Port of Amoy Has Fallen Into the Hands of Insurgents and Is in State of Anarchy

Washington, Nov. .6—The important treaty port of Amoy, in the province of Fukien, in southeastern China has fallen into the hands of the insurgents and is in a state of anarchy

Reports Peking Fallen

Shanghai, Nov. 6.—A Chinese report that Peking has fallen and the Emperor has fled, has caused a wide sensation but a private telgram from Peking timed 2 o'clock this afternoon makes no mention of such occurrence.

It is thought here that the report is intended to help the rebel cause locally.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Reports that Peking, the Chinese capital, had been captured by the revolutionists and that the dynasty and other higher officials, had fled gave great concern to State Department officials today. The department has not heard from Mr. Williams, the charge of the American legation since Saturday night and this is believed to indicate that wire communication between Peking and Tsin Tien and Shanghai, the cable termnila, has been interrputed through the activitiy of the revolutionists.

It is feared that a state of anarchy such as exists in Amoy will follow in Peking. The condition is being watched closely, in case it shoul become necessary to call an international conference like that which aojusted the claims growing out of the Boxer uprising, with a view to agreeing on a common line of action in China to insure the protection of foreign lives and property and incidentally to prevent any individual nation from taking an undue advantage of the situation. The American Red Cross Society today cabled $1,000 to American Consul General Green, in Hankaw. This action was taken upon the receipt of an appeal of the American charge Williams, which told of the urgent need of funds to relieve the suffering.

No Mention Made

London, Nov. 6.—The Reuter Telegram Company's latest dispatch from Peking direct, dated November 6th, 7 28 P. M., makes no mention of the fall of the city.

Lengthy dispatches sent from Peking and timed early this morning, fail to mention the fall of the capitol or the flight of the Court.

U. S. To Protect Her People

Peking, Nov. 7., 2:41 A. M.—The removal of the rigorous censorship hitherto imposed on the Chinese press is a notable sign of the times. The Chinese papers today publish with the greatest freedom long accounts of the Hankow massacres, giving the details and attributing the blame to the imperialists leaders for both the Hankow and Shanghai outbreaks. As a consequence of these publications there is increased animosity towards the Manchus.

The United States and Great Britain have decided to take effective measures for the protection of their people in China in event of danger to foreigners, which, however, does not yet appear probable. It is suspected that the regent's brother, Prince Ssai Suun, has left the country, as he has not been seen for three days. He obtained a month's leave from his post as acting minister of the navy.

A private letter from an officer of Yuen Shi Kai's staff says that the rebel leader General Li Yuen Heng makes 25 demands, the most important of which is that the imperial household shall proceed to Jeohl with the entire court, including the Eunuchs and shall remain there, receiving in return adequate pensions from the new government which is to be republican. A special secret meeting of the National Assembly yesterday afternoon decided to telegraph Yuen She Kai explaining the fearfully involved condition of the political situation at Peking, which required the immediate presence of the premier. Otherwise the assembly would be unable to tide over the difficulties. A number of the assembly explains that this is a fair warning and that if Yuan does not comply, another premier possibly may be appointed.

Consular reports from Mukden say many Chinese are fleeing into the country, believing the Manchus will retreat to Mukden and massacre the Chinese inhabitants.

The only demand the people have made lately which the throne has not granted is the punishment of officials responsible for the Hankow slaughter. Noting this, the Chinese in Peking consider it a further proof of the throne's weakness, that it has not dared to antagonize any faction or party.

Yuan Shi Kai has requested that the fifth division quartered in Shan Tung, proceed to Nieko, a few miles from Hankow. The third Chang Chun Fu division is arriving at Lanchu in detachments of 200. So far warm comradship has been shown between the soldiers of the two divisions.

ANOTHER $20,000 MISSING

Mail Pouch Routed From Raleigh to New York Disappears—Mail Clerk Handling Same Suspended.

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 6.—That a United States mail pouch routed from Raleigh to New York and containing $20,000 disappeared two weeks ago in a manner very similar to a recently reported $20,000 theft of a pouch at Lynchburg, Va., became known here today, though beyond admitting the loss of the valuable package, officials refuse to discuss the matter.

It is declared unofficially that the Raleigh pouch disappeared after being receipted for by a mail clerk on a northbound train passing here and that the clerk in whose custody it was last placed has been suspended from the service pending an investigation.

The pouch was handled by the local postoffice and later transferred to the mail clerk now under suspension. It is said he remembered seeing and checking it on a truck under the train shed here, but that he did not detect its loss until he reached the end of his run and found himself unable to tally with his entry book. The name of this clerk is withheld by officials.

Postoffice inspectors declare they are yet without any tangible clue. The impression prevails that the disappearance of this as well as the pouch reported lost from Lynchburg can be accounted for by the same person or parties.

ELECTROCUTION DEC. 8TH

L. M. Sandlin Will Meet His Death That Day

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 6.—Governor Kitchin fixes Friday, December 8th, as the date for the electrocution of L. M. Sandlin, the Wilmington wife-murderer, who secured an additional lease on life through his appeal to the Supreme Court in the cancellation of the date for his death fixed by the trial judge.

The order was issued today. Sandlin, whose wife had left him on account of bad treatment, went to a boarding house she was keeping and shot her to death and then turned his weapon on himself, failing however, to accomplish suicide. The Supreme Court recently affirmed the trial below.

ASKED TO SUBMIT.

Governor Noel Will be Asked to Show Legislature Certain Laws.

Jackson, Miss., Nov. 6.—Governor E. F. Noel will be asked to submit to the Legislature a law granting immunity to any person or persons who will volunteer to testify to charges of bribery against members of the Legislature. This was the purport of a resolution adopted by the lower house today 51 to 36, after objections had been voiced by several members.

It is said the resolution had reference to a magazine article concerning the recent Democratic Senatorial primary to which corruption was imputed without giving names.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 6.—Charles H. Pyle, aged 80 years, for 35 years a prominent real estate dealer, died at his home here today. Mr. Pyle traveled extensively through the Northwest and had induced hundreds of immigrants to come to Virginia. Bohemian colonies in Southside Virginia are the result of his work.

MEMBERS LOYAL TO REV. RICHESON

Will Not Accept His Resignation—Table it Until the Next Meeting.

WOMEN CRIED AND PLEADED

That It Not be Accepted—Vote Stood Thirty-Four Against and Fifteen for the Acceptance. Letter to Him.

Cambridge, Mass., November 6.—While women cried and pleaded that nothing should be done to appear in any way prejudicial to the interests of their pastor, the members of the Immanuel Baptist church society tonight voted not to accept at this time the resignation of Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, pastor of the church, now in jail on the charge of murdering Avis Linnell, of Hyannis. By another vote they decided to lay the matter on the table until November 24.

The resignation was sent to the church officers by the pastor immediately after his indictment last week, and a special meeting was called for tonight to act upon the same.

When the matter of accepting the resignation was opened it became apparent that the society was divided upon the subject. The women predominated in the attendance and, for the most part, they supported the pastor. Many were crying and some of the male members of the society shed tears as the controversy waxed warm. When a ballot was taken, after two hours of discussion, thirty voted against acceptance and fifteen for.

The secretary was instructed to notify Rev. Mr. Richeson of the action of the society, and the following letter was drawn up and will be forwarded:

"Dear Sir: Your communication of November 1st received and read before the church, and, after due consideration, we have decided to lay the matter of the resignation on the table until the next regular meeting of the church, Friday, November 24th."

WHITEVILLE AFFAIRS.

W. O. W. Monument—Domestic Science for Colored School.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Nov. 6.—Sunday afternoon 500 people assembled at Richardson graveyard to attend the unveiling of the monument erected by the Woodmen of the World to the memory of Sovereign John B. Richardson. Sixty Woodmen participated in the exercises and the Vineland Band, together with a choir of Whiteville's sweetest singers, furnished the music appropriate for the occasion. Hon. I. B. Tucker delivered the memorial address in an eloquent manner, speaking not only on the life of the deceased, but also on the motives and excellent qualities of the Woodmen of the World.

The Butters Lumber Co., at Boardman, have as their teacher for the colored school a domestic science graduate of the St. Augustine School, at Raleigh, Elizabeth Delaney, and they insist that each pupil who attends this school should take up this branch of the education. This is an excellent move on the part of the Butters Lumber Co., and if followed by other colored schools would soon solve to a large extent the servant problem.

Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, has returned from New Orleans, where he attended the cotton growers' convention, held there on the 30th. Mr. Brown says that the cotton acreage will certainly be cut down next year as he talked with a large number of the largest planters from every cotton State and they are unanimous in their determination to next year reduce the acreage.

Mr. Roy Davis and family, who last week moved to Wilmington, have returned to Whiteville. Mrs. Davis is the mother of Messrs. Otto and Alex. Millican, of Wilmington.

Mr. L. M. Covington, formerly cashier of the Bank of Whiteville, and who numbers his friends by his acquaintances here was in Whiteville last week on business.——Mrs. J. E. Sims has arrived in Whiteville to spend some time with her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Memory.——Mrs. W. G. Burkhead, who was recently operated on in Raleigh, is able to sit up and hopes to return home in a week.——Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Wright, of Boardman, who have been in the State of New York for some time, will not return home until the 20th.

TURKS RE-CAPTURE DERNA

500 Italians Killed and the Remainder of the Defending Force Taken Prisoners—Scout Cruiser Chester Sails.

London, Nov. 6.—A news agency dispatch from Constantinople says that it was officially announced at the Turkish capital today that the Turks had recaptured Derna in Tripoli and that 500 Italians were killed and the remainder of the defending force were taken prisoners.

Paris, Nov. 6.—The Turkish embassy here has been notified by an Ottoman agency that the minister of war at Constantinople has received a dispatch announcing that the Turks have defeated the Italians at Derna, re-taking the city and capturing 18 guns. The Italians, says the dispatch, had 500 men killed, while the remainder were taken prisoners. The Turks had 80 killed and 80 wounded.

Scout Cruiser to Tripoli.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Under orders from the State Department, transmitted through the Navy Department, the scout cruiser Chester, which has been lying at Malta for some time, sailed today for Tripoli. The officials here refused to make any statement as to her mission, but it is believed that the purpose is to ascertain at first hand the truth respecting the charges that the Italian troops have perpetrated barbarities upon the Turks and Arabs.

The mission of the Chester to Tripoli was declared at the State Department late today to be for the purpose of "looking into the cholera situation there," but from sources other than the State Department it was said the vessel was proceeding there for the "protection of foreign interests"

As the cholera situation at Malta was several days ago reported to be quite serious, no reason for the sailing of the vessel to another cholera infested port could be set forth further than that she has an important mission, such as the "protection of foreign interests," or that it is for the purpose of getting first hand information on the alleged Italian barbarities in Tripoli.

Report Unfounded.

Amoy, Nov. 6.—The report of the rebel occupation of Amoy is unfounded. The situation here is tense, but there are no disorders.

Report Confirmed.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Confirmation of the news of the recapturing of Derna in Tripoli, by the Turkish troops, was contained in a dispatch received here tonight by the Turkish embassy from the minister of foreign affairs at Constantinople. The telegram states that the Imperial Ottoman troops were reinforced by the Senousis, killing 500 Italians and taking a considerable quantity of arms and ammunition. The loss to the Turkish, says the dispatch, was 80 dead and as many wounded.

CHIEF OFFICER DROWNS.

Together With Two Men They Are Swept Off Deck of Steamer.

New York, Nov. 6.—The chief officer and two men of the Morgan Line steamer Monus, were swept from the deck of the vessel by a tremendous wave on the voyage from New Orleans, completed here today, and drowned. The victims were A. T. Boesch, chief officer; J. P. Serge, boatswain, and R. Nordberg, seaman.

The unusual tragedy occurred Friday afternoon over the coast of Florida, but it was not reported by Capt. John S. Boyce, until the Momus arrived today with her flags at half mast. The great swell, described as one of tidal wave proportions, swept over the Momus with a deluge like Niagara and carried the three men overboard as if they had been corks. Before a lifeboat could be lowered the victims disappeared. There were 25 passengers aboard the ship and through the cabin windows many of them saw the men carried away.

A gale was blowing and the three men were working on the forward part of the deck, when without warning the tidal wave rose above the vessel and crashed thunderously down upon the deck. Chief Officer Boesch saw Nordberg rush across the deck and sprang to his assistance. Both went over the side together. Serge, the boatswain, was also caught in the torrent and impelled by a lurch of the ship, shot overboard after his companions.

Orders to man the life boats were issued at once and as the Momus rolled and pitched the boat was lowered. Until darkness set in the little boat risked the mercy of the increasing gale and sea in the hope of recovering the bodies of the doomed men, but without avail. Two of the crew were injured while lowering the life boat.

COL. DOCKERY DEAD.

Passed Away at Midnight at His Home in Rockingham, N. C.

Rockingham, N. C., Nov. 6.—Col. H. C. Dockery, editor of the Rockingham Daily Post, and one of the largest farmers and most prominent men in the State, died at midnight tonight at his home here. Col. Dockery was 61 years of age. The immediate cause of his death was heart disease, though he had been in feeble health for some months. Col. Dockery was probably as widely known as any man in the State of North Carolina.

MAINE REMAINS DRY.

Result is Reversed as Indicated in First Returns.

Augusta, Me., Nov. 6.—Maine retains constitutional prohibition. Governor Plaisted and his council late tonight decided to accept the correction in the vote of four towns, cast in the special election in September, thus reversing the result as indicated on the face of the first official returns.

PRESIDENT TAFT WILL VOTE EARLY

Personally Appeared Before Election Board and Judges in Cincinnati Yesterday.

TO VOTE FOR MISS CAMPBELL

Walks Into Polling Place in Furniture Store and Tells His Occupation, Age, Etc., Signed Polling Book and Will Vote.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 6.—President Taft qualified as a voter in Cincinnati today. He appeared personally before the Cincinnati election board and later before the election judges in his own precinct and went through the steps required to insure his casting a ballot tomorrow. "I'm going to vote early tomorrow. You know early voting is the right way," said the President tonight.

The President has announced his intention of voting the Republican ticket. There has been criticism of this announcement here on the score that in so voting, Mr. Taft will support the candidates of the so-called "Boss" George B. Cox, about whom he spoke so bitterly at Akron, Ohio, when he was Secretary of War. Tonight the President refused to discuss his announcement, saying merely that he knew the Republican candidate and was convinced of their worthiness.

In voting tomorrow the President probably will cast the first ballot of any President of the United States for a woman who is seeking office. He will vote for Miss Edith Campbell, candidate for member-at-large of the local school board. "I expect to vote for Miss Edith Campbell, said the President, "because I think there should be women representative on the school board and as I know Miss Campbell's ability and qualifications."

Mr. Taft, accompanied by Mrs. Taft, Miss Helen Taft and Mrs. Thomas McK. Laughlin, of Pittsburg, a sister of Mrs. Taft, arrived in Cincinnati early today. Shortly after breakfast the President appeared for the election board and secured his certificate of registration just before 11 o'clock. Late this afternoon he motored out to 2008 Madison Road, where tomorrow he expects to vote and go through the final stage of enrollment.

"Hello gentlemen," said the President as he walked into the polling place, which is in the first floor of a most unpretentious furniture shop. The election judges arose, doffed their hats and said, "Good afternoon."

"I want to see if I am in the right pew," said the President, taking out the certificate he had secured earlier in the day and looking it over carefully

Richard Murphy, a Democrat, and one of the election judges, questioned the President.

"What is your occupation?" asked Murphy, "President of the United States?"

"Well," answered the President, smiling, "just put me down as a lawyer, I want that known because I may need the business soon."

"You are President of the United States?" said Mr. Murphy.

"Well put me down as President," assented Mr. Taft. "I can't deny that. Make it President of the United States and attorney."

The President admitted being 54 years of age; said that he was married and thought he had lived in precinct M, about 12 years. When he had finished and had signed the polling book and was recorded at "No. 301" therein, he asked, "Am I the only one today?"

"You are the first one so far," said Mr. Murphy.

"Well, good bye gentlemen," said the President as he walked out and stepped into the waiting automobile: "I will see you tomorrow."

From the polling place Mr. Taft returned to the home of his brother, C. P. Taft, whose guest he will be tonight, tomorrow and tomorrow night.

ENGINEER KILLED.

Seaboard Train Runs Into Open Switch in South Carolina.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 6.—Southbound passenger train No. 43, of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, leaving New York at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning, ran into an open switch at Swansea, 25 miles south of Columbia, this morning at 1 o'clock, killing Engineer W. Edward Pritchard, of Augusta, and injuring his fireman, Prince Davis, colored; H. G. Freeman, express messenger, and T. W. Moore, mail clerk, also were slightly injured. The engine turned over, pinning the engineer beneath it.

The switch lock was found several feet from the open switch and it is believed that the switch was turned with malicious intent. An investigation is now being made.

Negro Arrested

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 6.—Charged with breaking the switch caused the wreck of the Seaboard's passenger train No. 43 at Swansea this morning. Lawrence Robinson, a negro, is in the Lexington county jail tonight. Blood hounds followed a straight trail to Robinson's house.

Robinson denies being guilty of the crime, but admits that he served a three-year sentence on the chain gang for an attempt to tamper with a switch on this same line.

HOPES GO GLIMMERING

Carolina League Directors Seem Disposed to Wait for South Carolina Clubs to Post Money—Presi- Hears from Teams

"President J. H. Wearn, of the Carolina League, is in receipt of letters from the Greenville and Spartanburg clubs to the effect that both of these cities will be members of the baseball circuit next year and that the guarantee checks would be forthcoming at an early date.

"The president of the Greenville club wrote Mr. Wearn that the local club had been a little slow in corralling the necessary cash to forward the two $500 checks as required by the league but that the necessary funds would be forthcoming within a very short time.

The Spartanburg club communicated in like manner, stating that on account of the heavy losses sustained by the association last season that the club treasury was sadly depleted and that some little time might elapse before the $1,000 was available. The letter concluded with the statement that the association would be in" the league next year, unless something unforseen happened.

" Mr. Furman Smith, the leading spirit of the Anderson team for several years and a foremost stockholder in the club, wrote Mr. Wearn that the prospects were very "squally" but that Anderson would have to stay in if he himself had to take charge of things again. It will be recalled that Mr. Smith retired from active direction of affairs in Anderson last year but he retained his financial interest in the club. He is one of the livest wires in the State and if he is going to get behind the club next season, it is a safe bet that Anderson may be counted in. President Wearn apprehends no trouble by reason of the failure of the three South Carolina cities to forward their checks on time for the reason that there has always been more or less delay in the past. This year too, the amount of the guarantee was raised from $500 to $1,000."

Local enthusiasts are a little surprised at the above from Sunday's Charlotte Observer, inasmuch as they were of the opinion that the Carolina League directors had made this ruling about early posting of forfeit money in good faith, and with the intention of following its ruling.

Wilmington was given to understand early in the Fall that the Carolina League was receptive to a proposition to admit it into the league, but on account of the privilege the Palmetto state clubs had of going on another season, finishing the five-year term, nothing could be done until the time for posting the forfeits had expired. It was suggested at the time that there was little likelihood of them all coming across in time and there was nothing to do but wait until after October 15th when the franchise would be open. As soon as Wilmington was notified that neither of the three clubs had complied with the ruling President Wearn was wired that Wilmington was ready with the goods on a moment's notice, and then the fans settled down to prospective nguring on the probable composition of a Wilmington team in the North Carolina State League. It was demonstrated at the meeting of the directors in Charlotte that the majority were in favor of a State League, which still seems to be the impression, but just why they have decided to dilly-dally with those losing propositions on the other side of the line again, letting them take their own good time to comply with an iron-clad ruling of the magnates, is hard to understand.

No one can dispute the fact that Wilmington would prove a better pay ing proposition than either of the South Carolina towns, all of which lost money for themselves and the league the past season, and it is somewhat a mystery how they expect to have a more successful season another year, with a league composed of identically the same towns with only a few minor changes in the by-laws.

Wilmington has always been a paying baseball town while playing at home, and did a large share towards supporting the old Eastern Carolina League during the three years of its existence, but the one great drawback has been the slim attendance in all of the other towns composing the league, which caused both the Wilmington club and the locals in the other towns to go in a hole on such occasions. Statistics on attendance here demonstrate that baseball will pay here with the other clubs doing their share to support the league, and in a league composed of such towns as Charlotte, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Raleigh and Durham, with all of whom she can keep step throughout the season, everything would point to a most successful life for a new North Carolina State League.

If the Carolina League continues to exist another year, Wilmington no doubt, will have one or more franchises offered to her before the season is half over, as was the case the past year, but it is doubtful if anyone could be found so enthusiastic and willing to back a team at that time as is the case at present, and it is hoped the directors will be able to see the sinsibleness of this argument and think well before loading up with this dead stock again.

—Report was made to county officers Sunday that the store of Mrs. Harrison, at Seagate, formerly known as Greenville Station, was entered and robbed Saturday night, and Constable Savage and Deputy Sheriff Cox went down and made an investigation. A quantity of goods was stolen, amounting in the aggregate to about $100.

A CERTAIN CURE FOR CATARRH

The mucous membranes of the nose and throat are exposed to the irritating influence of dust, impure air, etc., and for this reason are the places Catarrh usually first manifests itself. But these are simply exciting causes, the inflammation and discharge being really produced by an impure and vitiated condition of the blood. It is well enough to use some local treatment to cleanse these membranes, but any one can readily see that if the inflammatory matter is left in the blood, such treatment cannot possibly have any permanent effect. S. S. S. cures Catarrh by purifying the blood of all impure catarrhal matter and irritating germs and at the same time builds up the system by its fine tonic effects. When S. S. S. has purified the blood, the mucous surfaces are all nourished and made healthy. There can be no inflammation of the membranes then, because the blood is pure, and every tissue receives nourishment instead of irritating matter. Our book on Catarrh will give proper advice as to what is best to use as a local aid while S. S. S. is purifying the blood. This book is free, also any special advice you may feel you need. S. S. S. is sold at drug stores.

PLACES LOOTED BY ROBBERS

Two Stores Entered Sunday Night and Residence Robbed Saturday Night—Big Haul at the Stores

Police officers are at work on several clues which they hope will lead them to the capture before daylight this morning of the person or persons responsible for the robbery Sunday night of the store of Mr. C. A. Werkheiser, corner 10th and Dock streets, and McAllister's place at Eighth and Red Cross streets, a quantity of goods being stolen from each place. The officers are certain that they are on the right track and will be very much disappointed if they fail to round up the robbers. Several places were searched yesterday under authority of search warrants, but none of the stolen property was found.

It is thought that the same persons robbed both stores. At Mr. Werkheiser's place the robbers secured 3 cans Bunker Hill milk, one-half box of Piedmont cigarettes, one-half box Jorker chewing tobacco; 10 Cuban Blossom cigars; four boxes of hose, one pair kid gloves, one cap, cash register, one large knife, one case of neckties.

They secured at Mr. McAllister's place several suits of underwear, top shirts, hose for both men and women, two caddies of tobacco, one Brown Mule and the other Apple brand.

The robberies were reported to the police early yesterday morning and Chief of Police John J. Fowler immediately detailed three special officers to work on the case with the result that in a very short time clues were discovered that Chief Fowler believes will lead to the capture of the robbers.

It was told on the streets yesterday that county officers had received a tip to the effect that the store at 10th and Dock streets would be robbed Sunday night and spent most of the time in the vicinity waiting the visit of the robbers. They were called off for a short time and while they were away the store was robbed.

At the hall yesterday afternoon it was said that at one of the places visited by the robbers their presence was detected by a colored woman who lived nearby, but she was too badly frightened to give the alarm. She is said to have observed the robbers, two in number, carrying out the property, she having been aroused from her slumbers by the noise made by the robbers in getting into the building.

Saturday night a robber entered one of the rooms on the second floor of boarding house conducted by Miss Anna Herring, No. 119 Chesnut street, and stole $10 from the trouser pockets of Mr. W. B. Boggan, a boarder, and $6 from Mr. W. L. Philippine, also a boarder. The robber entered through the rear, going up the stairway from the back porch. He did not go into but one room. The trousers of Messrs. Bogga n and Philippine were found by Miss Herring's Cook early Sunday on the stairway. Beside one of the trousers lay a pocket knife and pocket book belonging to one of the gentlemen. Evidently the wanted nothing but money. The house was robbed pretty much in the same manner some months ago. The police are of the opinion that the person who committed the robbery Saturday night was the same who perpetrated the deed a few months ago and are satisfied that he is familiar with the premises.

Report has also been made to the police that a white man entered the residence of Mr. Louis E. Hall, No. 711 Dock street, a few days ago, and took from the hat rack, a long black overcoat. The cook saw the man and asked him if he had been sent by Mr. Hall. He replied in the affirmative and walked off with the coat.

SAYS HE WILL SUE COUNTY

W. J. Bellamy, Esq., Informs Commissioners That He Will Bring Suit. Busy Session of Board Yesterday Afternoon.

Following the refusal of the Board of County Commissioners, at its monthly session yesterday afternoon to allow John Hill, colored, witness fees for the 66 days which he spent in the county jail, to which he was committed by Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, as a witness in the Paul Sharpless murder case, W. J. Bellamy, Esq., served notice on the board that he would sue the county for the amount.

In asking that Hill be paid the sum allowed witness for the time which he spent in jail, Mr. Bellamy presented to the Board a recommendation from Judge G. W. Ward, who presided over the case. in which he orders, or suggests, that the board pay to Hill such sum as may be allowed by court or as may seem to them to be just and meet. The order, or recommendation, also contains the indorsement of Solicitor Henry E. Shaw, who prosecuted the Sharpless case.

The board declined to allow Hill the witness fees on advice of Bellamy & Bellamy, the county attorneys, on the ground that it had no authority by law to pay the man fees for the time which he was confined in jail. It was the sense of the board that the man's claim was a just one, but they felt that they were powerless to act without legal authority and consequently refused. They also felt that it would be an unwise precedent to establish.

The session was attended by Chairman D. McEachern and Commissioners Metts, Divine, Vollers and Kerr. Clerk John Haar was also present. Quite a volume of business was transacted, although little of it was of any special importance.

Like Banquo's ghost, the controversy over the gate across the Summer Rest road at the line of the old encampment grounds, bobbed serenely into the limelight again. Several communications and petitions relative to it were read. One communication was from Mr. Pembroke Jones, in which he stated that the much maligned gate on his property had been removed, but he asked that the board discontinue the Summer Rest road as far as it passes through land leased or owned by him. He stated that before the gate was placed across the road there was much complaint from the residents of the section of disorderly and disreputable conduct in that vicinity during the night hours. He also enclosed a letter from Dr. A. H. Harriss, in which Dr. Harriss expressed himself emphatically in favor of the road being discontinued on account of the disorderly conduct prevailing at night.

A petition was read from a number of property holders and residents of Summer Rest asking that the road be discontinued, and another petition signed by almost an equal number of residents and property holders asking that the road be opened and that it be macadamized. The first petition asked that the road be discontinued from the point where the gate was originally located at the boundary of the old encampment ground to the line of Larkin's ditch. The other petition asked that it be opened all the way through Mr. Jones' property. Both petitions were referred to the permanent road committee for investigation and report.

Geo. B. Elliott, Esq., presented a petition from owners of property traversed by Harnett avenue, Carolina Heights, tendering the highway to the county and asking that it be made a sand-clay road. The petition was signed by a large number of people. Mr. Thos. E. Cooper, cashier of the American National Bank, also made a plea that the county take over the road and make a modern highway of it. It was the sense of the board that the road should be taken over by the county and made into a modern thoroughfare, but that it could not be done just at the present time without interfering with the other road building which the county is engaged in at the present. On motion of Commissioner Divine, it was referred to the permanent road committee for investigation and report.

A number of citizens appeared before the board to ask that mistakes in the assessed valuation of their property be corrected or that the property be assessed in proportion to that of their neighbors. Among them were Messrs. Warren, for the American Agricultural Chemical Company; J. W. Haynes, Jr., C. H. Alexander, A. J. Howell, J. P. Stevens, H. B. Bridgers and Elijah Green, colored. The requests of all were referred to a committee composed of Chairman D. McEachern and Commissioners Divine and Kerr, to take the matter up with the assessor and investigate it thoroughly.

Mr. Chas. G. Williams' poll tax was abated, as he lives in Waycross, Ga., though he owns some property in New Hanover county.

Mr. H. B. Bridgers also appeared before the board in regard to a matter relative to the streets at Carolina Place being made county roads and improved accordingly, which came up at a previous meeting. Mr. Bridgers stated that the streets belonged as yet to the estate of Miss Mary Bridgers and that just at this time it would not be best for the county to take over the roads. However, he stated, the estate would be glad to turn the roads over to the county a little later when the estate had been finally settled, and that the estate would be glad to see them improved then. In connection with the above matter Chairman McEachern stated that there seemed to have been some misunderstanding as to why the board had improved 18th street instead of 17th, which he explained by stating that owing to the congested traffic on 17th street, by reason of the many cars passing, it was thought best to the interests of the public to make the improvements on 18th street.

John Tate, colored, asked to be exempt from poll taxes on account of the fact that he had had both arms broken. When questioned he stated that he made $1.33 1-3 a day and worked regularly. The board declined to exempt him. Mr. Frank Herbst asked that a mistake in the valuation of his personal property be corrected. It was found that the error had been made in listing and the board abated the tax valuation of $1,400. Mr. J. W. Burriss, of Wilmington township, was exempted from poll taxes on account of physical disability.

Dr. W. D. MacMillan, county superintendent of health, read his report, in which he stated that in the city during the month of October there had been 25 cases of typhoid fever, one of small pox, 16 of diphtheria and five of scarlet fever, while outside of the city the county had not had a case of preventable contagious disease for three or four months.

The following jury was drawn for the next term of Superior Court, a one week civil term, which convenes Monday, December 4th: Messrs. W. M. Hurst, G. E. W. Stokley, A. S. Long, J. N. Sweeney, Chas. P. Driver, J. H. Haskett, R. E. Smith, W. P. Oldham, D. F. Barnes, C. H. Keen, R. S. Murray, H. B. Shepard, P. A. DuRant, LeRoy Fennell, C. L. Williamson, D. Rountree, T. C. James and B. F. Smith.

Contrary to expectations no one was present to ask the commissioners to urge the Governor to call a special term of criminal Superior Court for the county for the trial of the so-called whiskey cases, and the matter was not referred to at all.

United States Revenue Cutter Yamacraw Found Abandoned Schooner Saephen G Loud—Towed Into Southport

Diesmasted, waterlogged and abandoned by her crew, the American three-masted schooner Stephen G. Loud, Captain Small, from Savannah, October 23rd, for Boston, which has been long overdue, was picked up by the United States Revenue Cutter Yamacraw early yesterday morning about midway between Frying Pan Shoals and Cape Romaine, 40 miles at sea, and towed into Southport last night, while an Associated Press dispatch sent out from London yesterday carries the information that the captain and crew are safe and on board the steamer Victorian, on her way from Galveston to Liverpool.

The first news of the finding of the derelict was contained in a wireless message from the Yamacraw to the Revenue Cutter Seminole, which has also been engaged in the search for the derelict and which came into port about noon yesterday. The message stated that the Loud had been found in latitude 30:10 North, longitude 77:50 West, and that the Yamacraw was then towing her to Southport. Another wireless message received by Captain Perry, of the Seminole, last evening about 8 o'clock stated that the cutter and her tow had reached the bar and that a tug and the pilot boat had gone out to bring her in. The first message stated that the ship's yawl and crew were missing, but that the boat's provisions seemed to be intact. Captain Berry stated at the time that her crew had probably been picked up by some passing steamer which had not yet reached port and the press dispatch which came later in the day proved that his surmise was correct. The report stated that the steamer Victorian had sent a wireless message to the effect that she had on board the crew of the abandoned ship, but did not give the details as to where they were picked up.

Since the Seminole left port on November 1st, she has been searching the Gulf stream from Hatteras to Charleston for the reported derelict. At Charleston, or rather on Kiowon Island, 18 miles southeast of Charleston, she investigated the condition of the schooner Margaret A. May, which was wrecked during the Charleston hurricane several months ago. No bodies were found in the wreck or on the island, but it appears practically certain that Captain Jarvis and his two brothers, as well as all members of the crew, were drowned and doubtless their bodies by this time are buried deep in the sands of some of the South Sea islands.

The United States Revenue Cutter Seneca, the government's regular derelict destroyer, which was also engaged in the search for the derelict, under command of Lieutenant Lauriate, is now on her way back to her station at New York.

During last Winter the schooner Stephen G. Loud was picked up off the Massachusetts coast by the Cutter Gresham and towed into port, so this is not her first mishap. She will be turned over to Mr. M. S. Willard, of the Carolina Insurance Company, representing the underwriters.

The Yamacraw, under command of Captain Horace B. West, will probably return to her station at Charleston this morning.

THE LITCHFIELD TRIO.

Gave Delightful Entertainment at the Boys' Brigade Last Night.

The Litchfield Trio, otherwise known as "The Fun Makers," appeared at the Boys' Brigade auditorium last night as the first attraction of the Lyceum Course. In spite of the unsettled weather the hall was crowded with an audience that was delighted and charmed with the entertainment. The evening's entertainment began with "Plantation Melodies", rendered on the violin by Mrs. Litchfield, which was enthusiastically received, followed by Mr. Litchfield in a little sketch entitled, "Odd Folks," in which he depicted various characters, making his changes on the platform. This proved decidedly popular and kept the house in an uproar all the time. Song reading by Miss Litchfield was the next and she had to respond to several encores. Next Mr. Litchfield treated the audience with some rare and funny stories, and almost every time he opened his mouth was regarded by the audience as a signal for laugter. He presented a little sketch entitled "The Eccentric Parson" that was splendid. Part I of the programme was brought to a close with a violin solo by Mrs. Litchfield, in which she gave an imitation of an old reed organ, among other features.

The second part of the programme was devoted to the presentation of a little play entitled "Down at Brook Farm." Mr. Litchfield was the main character, but his wife and daughter gave valuable assistance. He appeared first as a farmer and later as a country boy and was splendid in both roles. Mrs. Litchfield had the part of teacher. The play was one of the funniest and most pleasing features of the programme.

The success of last night's entertainment will be repeated when the second attraction, The Harmony Concert Company, comes to the Brigade on the night of November 16th.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Lengthy Session Yesterday---Several Road Sentences Imposed

An unusually large assortment of week-end offenders against the dignity of the law faced the Recorder at yesterday's session of the court, most of whom were charged with petty offenses, several, however, drawing road sentences.

Chas. Smith, colored, who was released from one of the county convict camps last Wednesday, was charged with stealing a lot of tools from the camp several nights later. He was found guilty and sentenced to six months on the roads. Judgment against him was suspended on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

James Jones, colored, received a sentence of three months on the county roads for an assault on a female. Chas. Fisher, an Albino, was up on the usual charge, drunkenness, and drew three months on the county roads.

Levi McDonald, an Afro-American, was found guilty of violating the hitching ordinance and judgment was suspended on payment of the costs; Katie Randolph, colored, was taxed $10 and costs for being drunk; John Howell, a little colored boy, was found guilty of the larceny of a sum of money, but judgment was suspended the lad on account of his extreme youth on condition that his parents correct him.

B. M. Reaves, a white man, was sentenced to 30 days on the county roads but judgment was suspended on condition that the defendant remain sober for a period of six months, with the proviso that judgment will be prayed if he fails to do so. Joe Cannon, colored, was taxed $10 and the costs for being drunk and disorderly. Emanuel Southerland, Murphy Mosely, David Moore, John Henry Lucas and Bertram LeVane, all colored, boys of tender years, were charged with vagrancy. Their case was continued until Nov. 11th.

Roy B. Kellum, a white man, faced two charges, one of being drunk and disorderly and the other of carrying a concealed weapon. His case was continued until Nov. 11th.

Lucy Foy, a negro woman, was found not guilty of being a vagrant and was dismissed After hearing the evidence the State did not ask for a verdict of guilty.

A case charging N. M. Blanchard, white, with firing a pistol in the city limits, was continued until Nov. 8th, as was another case charging him with carrying a concealed weapon. Dick Wilson, colored, was assessed $5 and the costs for disorderly conduct; judgment was suspended on John H. Nixon, a negro, for an assault and battery on a female, upon the payment of costs.

Nicholas Enlaw, Robert Enlaw and Moses Brown, all colored, were charged with an affray. Nicholas was fined $10 and the costs and the other two $5 and the costs each. Judgment was suspended on payment of costs against F. H. Riley, charged with disorderly conduct.

A goodly number of the members attended and it was an altogether enjoyable occasion. Members spoke in high praise of the service at the Lighthouse.

GREENSBORO RAIDS GAMBLERS

Six Young White Men Arrested and Hotel Proprietor Held—Embezzlement Charge—Man Shot Himself—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 6.—As a result of an early Sunday morning raid by the police at the Dome Hotel, six young white men are being held for gambling and D. W. Holder, proprietor of the hotel, is under a bond of $1,000 on a warrant charging him with knowingly renting rooms for gambling. The case of the young men actually engaged in the game will be heard tomorrow, while Holder's preliminary hearing will be Thursday.

The arrest of the gamblers, Hugh Lewis, John Rainey, E. V. Green, F. R. Parker, C. R. Noel and a Mr. Meisenheimer, was the result of information given the police by Noel, who alleged that he was "filled up with liquor and then fleeced." The officers went to the place immediately and found the other five men seated at a table. All paraphernalia for poker, which it is alleged was the game, had been removed. The young men, all of whom are well known about town, arranged bonds and were released.

The sequel of the first raid was the arrest of Holder late Sunday afternoon. For a number of years Holder has conducted the Dome Hotel, located near the depot and in the common street phrase being known generally as a "hell hole." Several times Holder has been charged with selling liquor, conducting a bawdy house, etc., and always upon conviction has paid his "license" tax. In this case it is said the outcome will be different and that strong demand will be made upon the city court for a sentence which will virtually mean the closing of this resort, or at least, a change in its manner of conducting business.

United States Commissioner Collins today held W. O. Goley, Henry Holt and Charles Manner, among the wealthiest and most prominent farmers of Clay township, in bonds of $500 for their appearance at the next term of United States Court on warrants alleging "assistance in the manufacture of whiskey." The evidence presented at the hearing was very damaging, though counsel for the defendants are of the belief that the witnesses for the government can be easily impeached before a jury which has heard the other side. In the past two years three murders and numerous fights have occurred in the Clay township community and the county authorities claim that whiskey sold at the distillery found on lands of W. O. Goley has been responsible.

It is understood that J. F. Alexander, who was brought to Greensboro Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff Weatherly from Columbia, where he was arrested charged with the embezzlement of $100 from the Vicks Chemical Company, will bring suit for damages against the Vicks Company, alleging false imprisonment. Alexander has employed counsel and it is said that the defendant and counsel are now preparing an action to be brought against the Vicks Company. Alexander says that he received the $100 in money; that he purchased a mileage book; that he made several trips and that after a short time he lost the wallet containing the remainder of the $100 advanced him for expenses.

Leaving his home four miles from Brown Summit, near here, for a squirrel hunt Friday afternoon, the body of John Chrismon was found late Saturday in the woods with the top of his head blown off. The gun with which he was hunting squirrels was found lying across the body with the muzzle pointing toward the head. It is believed that the squirrel hunter committed suicide, since it was known that he was mentally unbalanced and only a few weeks ago returned from Morganton.

Miss Maggie Rivenbark, 105 Dock street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "You are welcome to continue the use of my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they gave me lasting benefit. I value this remedy highly in return for what it did for me. There was a constant, dull pain in the small of my back and some days I could hardly get about the house. The kidney secretions bothered me and I had but little strength or energy. I used several tonics and remedies, but nothing gave me relief urtil I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills which were procured at Bellamy's Drug Store. They proved to be just what I required and it did not take them long to make me well."

President Taft doesn't propose to be misled by the signs of the times.

Lots of people's thanksgiving will be eating whatever is set before them.

It isn't fair to suffragettes to scare them with the mouse of neglected homes.

Cheer up. Somebody says persimmon beer can be made out of sweet potatoes.

Among the curious things that have happened is that two of New York's soft drink men accuse each other of being hard drinkers.

Women are now sitting on the jury in California. No doubt every woman on a jury will throw up the dignity of the judge to their husbands.

Says the Columbus Enquirer-Sun: "We are still for Cook." Probably our Georgia contemporary can tell for whom it is that Col. Roosevelt is so "still?"

A woman's club in Boston has taken strong grounds against electing unmarried men to office. The probability is that the club is composed of married women.

A German scientist insists that men originally belonged to the fish family Of course, he must not be misled by the fact that some men are lobsters and many are suckers.

Some writer is now claiming that girls precipitate courtships by looking sweet and smiling at the fellows they like. In other words, he means to say that the girls always start it first.

Editor Hemphill, of the Charlotte Observer, has been welcomed with several showers of roses. This shows that the ladies of Charlotte are under the impression that the Major is some sort of bachelor.

We are always glad to see one more blow struck for liberty but in the case of the Chinese we prefer to be a distant onlooker than an innocent by-stander while both sides engage in the old-fashioned massacre.

Standing in a coffin at Seattle a few Sundays ago, the Rev. Mr. Axtelle preached a sermon that was on distinctly sensational lines. His purpose must have been to put a damper on the spirit of the congregation.

In a recent lecture at the First Baptist church at Philadelphia, the Rev. Reginald John Campbell, of the City Temple, London, startled his audience by the declaration that "no successful business man of these times can be honest." We presume that the reverend gentleman also knows that very few dishonest men ever are successful.

A million visitors went to New York to view the greatest naval assemblage ever gathered in American waters. A few of our warships sent to Southport would draw big crowds there on the 23rd inst., when the completion of the Wilmington, Brunswick and Southern Railroad is celebrated. The Star hopes Secretary Von Meyer will let a few of the ships loaf in these waters occasionally.

President Taft keeps on saying he wants to see the tariff revised. When it is revised he vetoes all the revision that is proposed. Doubtless he still wants the tariff revised by its friends, but the country does not propose to trust its friends any more. The whereforeness of this district is that its friends have never been known to revise the tariff or to re adjust it in interest of the people. That is the reason why all the people should be Democrats.

LET THE SOUTH TAKE FRIGHT.

Now is a good time for the South to take fright and tremble in its boots. The rude and sudden alarm from North Carolina to Texas, because the bottom has dropped out of the cotton market, ought to be a profound lesson for this entire one-ideaed country.

While it is proposed to build a cotton warehouse in every important cotton centre, so we can store our cotton when the price doesn't suit, let's build a smoke house on every farm and fill them up with home raised meat. Let's raise enough of everything at home to supply the family and have a surplus to sell. We ought to have plenty of cattle and stock and feed them on what we produce ourselves. Every farmer can grow ribbon cane and make molasses as good as comes from Louisiana or Porto Rico, and if there is not to be a cane mill on every farm there ought to be a custom molasses outfit in every well ordered neighborhood.

It is all right to build cotton warehouses to entrench our cotton growing industry against bear raids. The cotton growers haven't got any tariff wall to protect them from the combined influences which beat down prices below the cost of production, but the cotton growers have on hand a fight which they have to win by their own co-operation, while other interests are guaranteed profits by Republican legislation which ignores the average man. The Congress of the great Nation, in the hands of a special interest party, backed by a special interest President, has its favorite plutocratic crowd at heart, but the farmers have to band themselves together and fight their own battles. They can do it by co-operation and organization, and one of their biggest weapons is widespread diversification of farm products.

We might build cotton warehouses all over the South and think we have snatched 3,000,000 bales of cotton from the market, but the European and American buyers will know what the warehouses contain. They will count it "cotton in sight", figure up prices accordingly, put their thumbs in the arm-holes of their silk vests and wait for dumping day. We are stuck on the warehouse plan insofar as it can be only one of the ways to protect the South's billion dollar cotton industry, but let us back the warehousing plan by diversified farming and we will achieve our agricultural independence.

We ought to have a fight on hand for other things than 14 cents cotton. We ought to stop the big drain made on the South by using our cotton money to buy millions of dollars of butter, cheese, beef, pork, mutton, and white sides with all the substance pressed out of them. We are spending our cotton substance to buy bread, food supplies, feed stuffs, clothing, hats, shoes, furniture, farming implements, wagons, buggies, automobiles, and a thousand other things, most of which can be made right in the South. We are good customers for the manufacturers who have a soft snap behind the tariff wall, and meanwhile we have ourselves neglected to diversify and ramify our manufactures and thus provide a magnet to draw some of that huge tariff graft towards the South. Billions of profits, guaranteed by a Republican protective tariff, drift as steadily to the manufacturing centres as does the ebb tide to the ocean. That system inevitably and absolutely drains the agricultural sections and as sure as fate it accounts for the fact that one section of the country is enormously rich and the others practically are living from hand to mouth.

Why should the men of one section of the country figure treasure by the millions of dollars while in another they finger money by the hundreds? It is because of the steady flow of wealth to the favored section. It is because there is an improper distribution of wealth and production. We can change this order of things by revolutionizing our productive system. We can stop being buyers by converting ourselves into producers and sellers. At any rate, we can produce enough at home to support ourselves and we can manufacture thousands of articles that will turn part of the tariff flood in this direction, if that unbalancing system is to be perpetuated at the expense of consumers.

We boast about the South's resources, yet we let others utilize them to our disadvantage. Manufacturers take our raw materials at their own prices, work them up and then unload on us the finished product at their own prices. On all the finished products made from Southern raw materials and shipped right back to us, we pay the freight on it going, we pay the cost of its manufacture, we pay the manufacturers' profits, we pay the middlemen's profits, and we pay the freight on the manufactured products coming back to the South.

We simply have got to revolutionize our agricultural and industrial systems, if we want the South to develop on the scale that its tremendous resources warrant. We get terribly alarmed over the price of our cotton crop, and that is just exactly what ought to happen to us. It will wake us up and bring us to our senses. However, we ought to have the scare of our lives about allowing others to gobble up our resources and make profits out of them while we are content to see the game going on right under our eyes.

The South must utilize its own raw materials, or keep right on seeing other parts of the country enrich themselves on what should be shipped away from the South as finished products. Why should we be content to furnish the bone for the other fellow to make the soup? Why should we be content to produce millions of dollars of raw material for the other fellow to work up to the completest financial advantage? What the dickens is the matter with us, anyhow?

We are going back to the farm—right here, on paper. We want to see the day when eastern North Carolina farmers will quit burning over timber tracts worth hundreds of dollars to provide grazing for a few old scrawny cows with backs which wouldn't do credit to an alligator. We must cultivate pasturage, and make feed crops, and equip our farms with movable fences so we can graze our cattle and hogs on our lands instead of in the woods where the ticks and yellow flies can eat the hide off their backs. We've just got to produce enough butter and milk to keep us from being ashamed of our country.

We ought to produce every pound of our beef and mutton, for we have the country that can produce the pasturage and we have cotton oil mills that manufacture the richest cattle feed known to all the world. We can do it, and do it cheaper than the West or the North. We have often asserted this, and we can now prove by the Norfolk Southern Railroad people who clearly demonstrated it at the recent Pittsburg Land Show. These enterprising Norfolk Southern folks proved by tests that eastern North Carolina can fatten beef cattle cheaper than any other portion of the American country. When a knock down and drag out argument is put right up to us, what is the matter with whining whether cotton drops five or six cents a pound in a few months, scattering consternation in a country that ought to laugh and grow fat in the great abundance of its resources?

We ought to get alarmed and ashamed, and fly like a run-away horse from our fatal agricultural system and our unpardonable neglect of our industrial opportunities in the utilization of our raw material and natural resources.

AMERICAN TRAMP STEAMERS

Owing to the ambitions of Southern ports to figure in Panama Canal commerce two years from now, and thereafter, we should say that the American merchant marine can get a big boost by the construction of a large number of American tramp steamers. Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Jacksonville, and all the Gulf ports are banking on having their commerce increased by Isthmian traffic with Central America, South America, and Oriental countries, and to our own Pacific States, but the one great need will be the necessary steamship service for the export and import business that no doubt can be established.

New Orleans is at the head of a movement to have a direct line of steamships owned by Mississippi Valley interests, and then there is Mr. G. N. Baker's proposed Atlantic and Pacific Company, in which Charleston has indicated a purpose to take stock in to the amount of $50,000. Savannah leans very kindly to a proposition to subscribe $100,000 to the Baker syndicate, but as to that, the Savannah News says:

"The report of the joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce, Cotton Exchange and Board of Trade on the question of subscribing for stock of the Atlantic and Pacific Transport Company, while most friendly in every respect to that company, doesn't advise that a concerted effort be made to secure stock subscriptions. It leaves the matter of taking stock to the business men. They are in a position to learn all of the facts bearing upon the question as to whether or not the company would be able to pay a 10 per cent. dividend from the start. The committee thinks it is yet too early to determine with much certainty what amount of trade the Panama canal will develop, since there are several very important matters, such as canal tolls, the disposition to be made of the Panama Railroad, etc., as yet unsettled. Mr. Gray, the secretary and executive officer of the Chamber of Commerce, made, it is understood, a very careful investigation of the entire situation connected with the prospective trade to be developed by the Panama canal, and it is presumed that his report determined to a very considerable extent, the course pursued by the committee. It is the sense of the committee, however, that the trades bodies of Savannah should keep in close touch with the Panama canal situation, so as to be ready to take advantage of any development in that connection that might be utilized for Savannah's advantage."

We would not be surprised if all our Southern ports do not have to depend for years on chartered vessels for such commerce as we may attract to our South Atlantic ports.

Men have an idea that it is the business of women to do the cooking and keep the house clean. An Indian thinks it is the business of women to carry all the luggage and the kid, while he struts along carrying the gun and doing the grunting. These things have grown out of custom and the growth is so deep-seated that many Indians and white men won't even get up and start the fire on frosty mornings.

CURRENT COMMENT.

But if the government puts the trusts out of business it will be no more than what the trusts did for the other fellow.—Durham Herald.

Wilmington Star: "Good news is contained in the announcement that the experts of the United States Agricultural Department have discovered several deposits of potash in the West. Secretary Wilson has not yet given out the particulars, but from what is said the deposits are rich and in sufficient quantity to make American agricultural interests independent of the European mines. If that is true, it will free our fertilizer manufacturers from the German potash syndicate whether it will free the farmers or not. It is to be hoped the deposits are on government lands, but as to that there is no intimation." If the deposits are on government lands it will be possible for American farmers to buy their fertilizers at a lower price, though by no means certain that the manufacturers would sell their product more cheaply. However, if not on government land, the manufacturer cannot have the exhorbitant cost of imported potash as an excuse for demanding such high prices for fertilizer.—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

Regardless of the no-dog law, it seems that Messrs. Craig and Wilson, Gastonia promoters, who have stock farms just outside the town, are going to embark in the sheep raising business. The Gastonia Gazette tells us that these men have received a number of fine Hampshiredowns to begin business on. "Two years ago," says The Gazette, "Craig and Wilson bought a few blooded Black Angus cattle and their herd now numbers 81. These are raised and sold for beef. So far the success in this line has been encouraging and the members of this firm have great faith in the future of cattle raising in this section. They firmly believe that cattle can be raised as cheap, if not more cheaply here than they can be bought and shipped in from Tennessee and elsewhere. Gaston county land will lend itself readily to the growing of grasses and small grains, such as oats, wheat and rye, and in the Winter cotton seed hulls and meal furnish cheap and nutritious feed for the cattle." The farm of Craig and Wilson is cut through by the Carolina & North-Western Railroad. Travelers by that route have not only seen fine cattle grazing there, but have seen some fine specimens of blooded horses. This new venture in sheep raising is a departure in the right direction. It may mean the beginning of another great thing for North Carolina.—Charlotte Chronicle.

ROSE HILL NEWS

Death of Dr. Hatcher Last Friday—Other News

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rose Hill, N. C., Nov. 6.—The death of Dr. T. R. Hatcher, which occurred here on Friday night, brought sorrow to many a heart in this section, where he was well-known and liked by all the people. Dr. Hatcher was 58 years of age and had been a leading physician of Duplin for 25 years. He leaves a widow and five children to mourn their loss. He had accumulated quite an estate and was interested in the growth and general progress of this community to a great extent. The burial took place Sunday morning and was conducted by the Knights of Pythias Lodge here under the direction of Dr. James D. Nutt, of Wilmington.

Mr. J. A. Street, of the Gibbes Machinery Company, of Columbia, S. C., was here Monday in the interest of the Rose Hill electric light plant to be installed in the near future——The Bank of Magnolia, will open its doors for business about November 15th.

The mere fact that Wilmington is considering seriously the scheme to erect a trolley line into Pender, Duplin and Sampson counties has given rise to much comment. The question now asked is When will it be?

Tomato vines here are now bearing their second crop and this is nothing out of the ordinary for Duplin soil——Warsaw township is building roads at a rapid rate.

MRS. POWELL IS NOW HAPPY

Her Miserable Experience for More Than Four Months Enables Her to Appreciate Good Health.

Dry Ridge, Ky.—"I am so happy," writes Mrs. Lydia Powell, from this place, "to be well. I was so poorly that I was almost dead. I had a pain in my left side. My stomach was weak, and I was just a skeleton! Our family doctor treated me for four months, but I did not get any better.

I had heard so much about Cardui, the woman's tonic, that I thought I would give it a trial. Now I am thankful for the wonderful help I have received from it. I believe if I had not taken Cardui I would have been dead or crazy now. My health is very much improved.

When I commenced to take Cardui, I could hardly walk across the room. Now I can walk four miles and do my work with a great deal more ease. I will always recommend Cardui to all suffering women. I owe my life and health to Cardui, and I cannot praise it enough for the good it has done me."

Cardui has a record of more than 50 years' success as a medicine—a tonic—for weak, tired, worn-out women.

Suppose you try it.

It will help you.

NOT ILLEGAL COMBINATION

Committee Finds That Towing Companies Are Not Operating in Restraint of Trade—Hearing Yesterday Morning.

Finding that, while there exists a combination, it is not in restraint of trade and competition nor does it abridge the service, the special Chamber of Commerce committee appointed to inquire into the towage situation at the port of Wilmington, concluded its investigations at the close of a two-hour hearing at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This will free the two towing companies doing business here of any suspicion that they are doing business in violation of the Federal and State anti-trust laws, as suggested by Capt. L. H. Rand, United States Engineer in charge of this district, in a recent communication to the commercial organization.

The hearing was begun at 11 o'clock yesterday morning with Mr. J. Allen Taylor, chairman of the committee, presiding. The other two members of the committee are Messrs. Hugh MacRae and John H. Brown. There were present besides members of the committee Capt. Rand, Mr. H. G. Smallbones, superintendent of the local office of the Clyde Line Steamship Company; Mr. E. T. Taylor, manager of the local plant of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company; Mr. D. H. Penton, of the Springer Coal Company and the Independent Ice Co.; Mr. Thos. Wood, Capt. W. A. Sanders, Capt. Edgar D. Williams, Mr. Fleet Williams, and Mr. Howard B. Branch, assistant secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Chairman Taylor called upon Capt. Rand to explain the local towage situation as it appeared to him. Capt. Rand responded and incidentally defended Mr. R. C. Merritt, assistant engineer, who has been charged by representatives of the towing companies with being at the bottom of the suggestion for an investigation on account of alleged personal differences. Capt. Rand said that there was no controversy between the government representatives and the towing companies; that the regulation forbidding a tug to pass a dredge in the Cape Fear river with more than one vessel in tow and the resultant hardship alleged to have been worked on the towing companies was called to his attention the latter part of August; that the operation of this regulation was suspended by him until the first of next year. With regard to rates, Capt. Rand said that he did not charge that the towing companies were doing business in restraint of trade, but merely suggested that it would not be amiss for the Chamber of Commerce to make an investigation. He said that the circumstances are that the two companies here are operating without competition and fix the price for towage accordingly, therefore, have a monopoly of the business.

Capt. Rand was followed by Mr. E. T. Taylor, who gave the committee some data as to rates. Later on in the hearing he was asked if he considered the rates unreasonable and he replied in the negative.

Mr. Thos. F. Wood told of the advance in towage rates from 22 to 25 cents on account of the regulation referred to above and stated that captains of vessels entering this port were very much displeased with the advance and some threatened not to pay it, complaining that rates were excessive. When the government regulation was suspended by Capt. Rand the charge was put back to 22 cents a ton. Mr. Wood is with C. D. Maffitt & Co., ship chandlers, and to this firm is paid the money for towing vessels entering the port, and he was asked to whom his firm in turn paid the money. He said that it was paid to the Diamond Steamship & Towing Co., Mr. J. S. Williams, treasurer, and later in the hearing said that sometimes some of the money was paid to the Wilmington Towing Company. In other words, it did not matter especially to which company the money was paid. He did not know how the money was divided between the two companies. By request he gave the amount paid for towing several vessels on the river. He also gave comparison of the amount paid under the 22 cents rate and under the 25 cents for the same service, the difference depending upon the tonnage of the vessels.

Mr. H. G. Smallbones said that he considered the charges reasonable and asserted that the 22-cent charge compares favorably, even better, than the charges for similar service at the port of Charleston, S. C.

Mr. D. H. Penton said that the towage companies were very considerate and that he had no difficulty in chartering vessels on account of port charges. He declared that he was not interested in any way in either towing company.

Admits Combination.

That there is a combination and has been for the past five years was admitted by Capt. J. S. Williams, treasurer of the Diamond Steamship & Towing Company. He said that prior to that time there was strong competition in the towing business at the port and that the last year under the old arrangement his company lost between $4,000 and $5,000 by reason of the fierce opposition. Realizing that the business could be handled more satisfactorily both to the companies and the owners of the vessels, the two companies agreed upon a working arrangement by which they would share alike in profits and losses. One advantage in this arrangement was to keep one tug at Southport and the other at Wilmington instead of having to race them up and down the river at every prospect of a call, as was the policy prior to that time. The companies settled on a rate of 22 cents. Some months ago the rate was increased to 25 cents on account of the government regulation and when the rule was suspended the towing companies went back to the old rate. Capt. Williams said that the field here is not large enough for more than two boats and that the working arrangement between the two companies was made to reduce expenses and also to eliminate any strife between them in bidding for business. He said that it cost $20,618.18 to operate the tug boats last year. The company lost money, he said, on the tug Sea King last year and that is the reason the boat was sold.

This ended the taking of testimony in the matter. Chairman Taylor remarked that he thought the engineer office should have supervision of the port and he spoke in the highest terms of the manner in which Capt. Rand had presented the matter in defense of his position.

Mr. Hugh MacRae remarked that the shippers had expressed themselves as satisfied, that the rates appear to be reasonable, that no evidence that they were unreasonable had been submitted to the committee; that in view of these points, it appeared that there was a combination, but no evidence to show that it was operated in restraint of trade.

Chairman Taylor stated that the finding of the committee would be as follows:

First, That from testimony from shippers and other facts it is found that the towage rates are satisfactory.

Second, That it is found the rates are no higher than those in comparison with other ports.

Third, That while a combination of boating interests is admitted it is found that such combination does not operate to restrain trade or competition, or to abridge the service of tug boats on the river.

This will be officially signed later and a copy sent to those intedested.

ARRESTED ON MUTINY CHARGE

Three Negro Sailors From the Schooner Victor C. Records in Jail Charged With Serious Offense on High Seas.

Assisted by an armed squad from the revenue cutter Seminole, Deputy United States Marshal C. O. Knox and Constable W. B. Savage yesterday afternoon arrested William Douglass, John Rigan and Charles Ellis, negro seamen on board the American schooner Victor C. Records, on a warrant charging them with mutiny on the high seas, as a result of which the vessel was dismasted and badly damaged, the captain and other men on the boat narrowly escaping with their lives. United States Commissioner George Harriss committed the men to jail in default of $500 bond each, to await preliminary hearing on November 10th at 11 o'clock A. M.

The warrant on which the men were arrested was issued by Commissioner Harriss on affidavit of Capt. Joseph Louis, of the Records. It alleges, that the men "violated Section 4602 of the revised statutes of the United States, unlawfully causing serious damage to the American schooner Victor C. Records, by wilful breach of duty and omitting to do the lawful acts proper and requisite to be done by them for preserving said vessel from serious damage or for preserving any person belonging to, or on board said ship, from immediate danger of life and limb."

Capt. Louis alleges that, while on a voyage from Charleston to New York, the schooner being loaded with a cargo of lumber, a serious storm was encountered and that the crew neglected to shorten sail and refused duty. He further claims that the vessel strained heavily, springing a leak, and finally filling with water; that the crew refused to man the pump and made an attempt to take the ship's yawl and leave the vessel, which attempt was frustrated by himself and other officers on board. He declares that all that saved the lives of the officers and crew was the fact that the ship was loaded with lumber and could not sink.

The Record was picked up at sea about a week ago and towed into Southport by the United States revenue cutter Seminole. She was later towed here to undergo repairs and is at present lying at the foot of Castle street, where the arrest was made yesterday afternoon. When found by the Seminole the Records was flying distress signals and was partly filled with water.

When the Records was brought to Wilmington Capt. Louis reported the mutiny to Commissioner Harriss, who, realizing the gravity of the charge and having plenty of time, communicated with United States District Attorney H. F. Seawell, at Raleigh, who replied by telegram, approving of the action Mr. Harriss proposed to take. On receipt of the message the commissioner issued the warrant and placed it in the hands of Deputy Marshal C. O. Knox to be served. Constable Savage was deputized to assist him and Commissioner Harriss, as provided by statute, requested Capt. Berry, of the cutter Seminole, for an armed crew to assist in making the arrest.

Capt. Berry placed Lieut. Thompson, of the Seminole, in command of an armed squad, which accompanied Messrs. Knox and Savage to where the Records lay and assisted in making the arrest.

When the men were carried before Commissioner Harris he fixed their bond at $500 each and in default of this sum they went to jail to await preliminary hearing November 10th. District Attorney Seawell will probably be here when the preliminary hearing is held.

Had Capt. Louis reported the mutiny to Capt. Berry, of the Seminole, when the cutter picked up the damaged schooner, the revenue officer could have placed the men under arrest at that time, as he is vested with that power.

The case is regarded as the most serious in marine circles at this port since the famous Scott, Adams and Sawyer case, of something like six years ago, which attracted attention from all over the United States.

PRESBYTERIANS MEET TODAY

Ninety-Eighth Annual Meeting of the North Carolina Synod in Charlotte This Week—Local Representatives Leave.

Pastors of the three local Presbyterian churches and lay delegates from two congregations will leave this morning on the early Seaboard train for Charlotte, where they will attend the 98th annual meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina, which will be held in the Second Presbyterian Church there this week, beginning this evening.

Those in the party will be Rev. Dr. John M. Wells, pastor, and Dr. Geo. C. Worth, delegate of the First Church; Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor, and Dr. Joseph Akerman, delegate, St. Andrew's, and Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church.

Rev. Dr. Melton Clark, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Greensboro, will preach the opening sermon this evening at the request of the retiring moderator, Hon. A. M. Scales, of Greensboro, who is a member of Dr. Clark's church. Immediately following the sermon a moderator for this year will be elected. No moderator is elected for a longer period than one year. The only permanent officer of the Synod is the stated clerk, which is now, and has been for some year, held by Rev. Dr. D. I. Craig, of Reidsville. Two temporary clerks will be named at the opening session tonight.

This will be the eighth meeting of the Synod in Charlotte, the last session being in 1901. Since that time the Presbyterian Church in North Carolina has advanced steadily, and the same is true of the various interests of the Church, each of which will be well presented and carefully considered during the meeting of the Synod. The contributions to all causes has increased greatly during the past few years, especially in the cause of foreign missions, for which there was given last year $72,207 as against $58,418 contributed to this cause in 1909, and $38,061 in 1908. Last year the Synod led all other Synods in the Church in this cause and it is expected that the report for this year will show a gratifying gain over the previous report. Owing to the "missionary debt" of $121,000, which the executive committee of foreign missions of the Southern Presbyterian Church has had to incur during the past five years, special emphasis is being placed upon the interest in foreign missions. Liquidation of this debt before the close of the present year is the aim, besides it is desired to secure additional contributions to this cause sufficient to continue the advance policy in the various mission fields and avoid the necessity of retrenchment. Notwithstanding this debt 105 missionaries have been sent out during the past five years, and during the last 12 months alone 30,000 conversions have been reported by the missionaries in the various mission stations in Africa, Brazil, China, Cuba, Japan, Korea and Mexico. The executive committee recently adopted the policy that no additional missionaries be sent to the foreign field until their salaries and traveling expenses shall have been provided by individuals or churches. Rev. Dr. R. F. Campbell, of Asheville, is chairman of the committee on foreign missions in the Synod for North Carolina, and has able assistants.

Home missions is not neglected by the church, but splendid results are being accomplished through the committee, of which Rev. McG. Shields is chairman. The amount contributed last year to Assembly's home missions was $8,991, and to local home missions $49,165.

The other regular contributions of the Synod of North Carolina were as follows: Colored evangelization, $2,874; ministerial relief, $2,878; ministerial education $22,470; schools and colleges, $55,965; Sabbath School extension and publication, $3,127; Bible society, $1,108; Assembly's home and school, $1,638; orphans' home, $25,205; congregational, Presbyterial tax and pastors' salaries, $289,018; miscellaneous, $34,627.

The Sunday School work is a strong feature in the Synod. It is said that the number of officers, teachers and pupils in the Sabbath Schools of the Synod is only 11,618 less than the entire church membership of the Synod.

This Synod includes in its territory all of the State of North Carolina and is composed of eight Presbyteries. The number of ministers in the Synod is 308; number of licentiates, 1; number of candidates, 136; number of churches, 466; number of elders, 1,653; number of deacons, 1,550; numbers added to the church during the year on examination, 2,299; number added on certificate, 1,849; total membership in Synod, 45,978; adult baptisms, 873; infant baptisms, 879; officers and teachers in Sabbath School and Bible classes, 3,338; scholars in Sabbath Schools and Bible classes 31,022.

The meeting of the Synod this year will be held two weeks later than usual, the regular time of meeting having been October 24th.

The Wilmington ministers and lay representatives will carry to the Synod a splendid report from the local churches. It will show a gratifying gain in all departments over last year.

—Suit was instituted in Superior Court yesterday by the Wilmington Motor Car Co., against Duncan McEachern. While the complaint has not yet been filed it is understood that the plaintiff is suing for an amount alleged to be due on contract. The amount is said to be between $500 and $1,000. The plaintiff company is represented by Scull, McNorton & Benson.

CONFERENCE ON SEWERAGE

City Council and Bondholders' Committee Not Agreed on One Point—May Have to Resort to Arbitration Yet

Owing to the fact that the City Council and the bondholders' committee of the Wilmington Sewerage Company are unable to agree upon one point in connection with the proposed transfer of the existing sewerage company to the city of Wilmington, there is a possibility that the entire matter will yet have to be left to arbitration for final adjustment. Representatives of the bondholders' committee were here yesterday and held a conference with the City Council, leaving in the evening for Philadelphia, where they will submit the city's ultimatum to the other bondholders tomorrow.

All matters of detail have been adjusted with the exception of one point and the difference is that, the company, in giving out contracts for new work, proposed that the contractors should stipulate to take bonds, of the series to be issued under the terms of the agreement, at par, whereas the City Council insists that bids should be called for on a basis of cash payments. It was insisted by representatives of the company that upon a competitive bidding for the work bidders would take bonds at par, thus enabling them to be placed at par the more readily. On the other hand, the City Council insists that contractors might bid by discounting the bonds, if they had to do so, and add the discount to their bids.

It is understood the Council would not recede its position and the matter will remain in abeyance until Mr. W. D. Simth, chairman of the bondholders' committee, and his Philadelphia attorney, Mr. Wm. Findlay Brown, submit the matter to their associates on Wednesday, when they will give their answer to the ultimatum. If they do not concede it, there will be nothing to do but to ignore the plant or resort to arbitration.

The conference was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the office of City Attorney Herbert McClammy in the Garrell building. The Mayor and all members of the Council, City Attorneys McClammy and Peschau, Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, were present in behalf of the city, and the bondholders were represented by Iredell Mears, Esq., local attorney, and Mr. W. B. D. Smith, chairman of the bondholders' committee, and Mr. W. Findlay Brown, his attorney.

AN EXTRAORDINARY ACCIDENT

Mr. John W. Brooks and Rev Charles A. Jones Suffer Injury

Sunday morning, just after the regular service at Fifth Street M. E. church, Mr. John W. Brooks, the well-known wholesale grocer and banker of this city, and Rev. Chas. A. Jones, who has been assisting with a revival at the church and has been a guest at the home of Mr. Brooks in Carolina Heights, suffered painful injuries as the result of a refractory automobile in which the family had driven to church. The machine had been driven to the church by Miss Brooks, a daughter of the owner, and when the family and Mr. Jones were preparing to return home after the service, Mr. Brooks went to crank the auto, a 30-horse power Chalmers. He did not notice that the spark had been left advanced and when he took hold of the crank and attempted to start the engine, it flew back with terrific force, breaking the wrist of his right hand. Rev. Mr. Jones then attempted to crank the refractory machine and he, too, was dealt a fearful blow across the arm and was thrown forward, his head striking the radiator, inflicting a painful gash. Dr. Thos. M. Green was hastily summoned and attended Messrs. Brooks and Jones at the family home. At first Mr. Brooks thought he had only a badly bruised arm but later it was ascertained that some of the bones were broken. However, his injuries are not serious and he was about his business as usual yesterday. Rev. Mr. Jones was able to occupy the pulpit as usual at Fifth Street church Sunday night as appointed, though he carried his arm in a sling. Friends of both gentlemen will be glad to know that neither will be seriously inconvenienced as the result of their injuries.

Cotton Steamer for Bremen—Estelle Arrives for Harbor

Aside from the arrival of the revenue cutter Seminole from Charleston, where she went to investigate the practicability of destroying the wreck of the schooner Margaret L. May, which has been lying since the August storm at the mouth of the North Edisto river, and of the Yamacraw, which towed in the abandoned schooner Stephen G. Loud, which is reported elsewhere in these columns, a number of other vessels arrived and cleared during the day.

The British steamer Putney Bridge, Capt. Robinson, cleared with something over 11,000 bales of cotton from the compresses of Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, for Bremen, and will get out at daylight this morning.

The schooner Estelle, Capt. Walker, which cleared from this port ten days ago with lumber for New York, put in at Cape Fear bar yesterday morning on account of stress of weather and after reporting all well to her agent, Capt. C. D. Maffitt, resumed her voyage in the afternoon.

The British steamer Nessfield, 2,380 tons, Capt. Hole, arrived yesterday from Trinidad, and will receive cotton from Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son.

Opelousas, La., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Zee R. McGee, who has been held here in jail since September 21, when she shot and killed young Allan Garland, was today admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000. A jury in the first trial failed to agree.

"For the Honor of the Name."

The story of a father and a wayward son. At The Grand today. **

..Theatrical..

Tomorrow Wilmington theatre-goers will be offered one of the great events of the season. It will be a superb dramatic offering, "The Rosary," and, fortunately, there will be two performances, special arrangements having been made for a matinee and for which bargain prices will prevail—25 and 50 cents. All seats will be 50 cents, of course, and tickets for the matinee, as well as for night, may be secured at Plummer's today.

The press has lavished praise upon "The Rosary." The Asheville and Charlotte papers have just fallen in line, paying the attraction high tribute. The following is from the Asheville Citizen:

"Coming with pleasurable relief after a succession of ordinary presentations, 'The Rosary' undoubtedly pleased a good audience at the Auditorium last night. In marked contrast with several companies which have appeared here, 'The Rosary' does not depend on one or two for acceptance, for the entire company is a strong one, every member being an actor of merit. Deserving of special mention is the work of Mr. Wilton Chambers, as 'Kenward Wright,' and Mr. Harry Nelson, as 'Father Kelly.' The latter was a most difficult role, but Mr. Nelson proved equal to it. Mr. Chambers is the possessor of a magnificent voice and this joined with artistic acting and a good stage presence made his effort a strong feature.

"Others who distinguished themselves by clever work were Miss Virginia Lewis, appearing in the dual role of 'Vera Wilton' and 'Alice Marsh', Miss Bessie Andre, whose presentation of 'Laura Watkins' would be hard to duplicate, and Mr. Harry Garron, whose portrayal of 'Lee Martin' vividly recalled his excellent work in 'The Gentleman from Mississippi' last year. Mr. Harry Walker, as 'Charley Harrow', shared well in the honors of the evening. As stated, there was not a weak spot in the company, and the audience was not slow in expressing its appreciation of the fact."

Matinee and Night Saturday.

"The Girl from Rector's" which comes to the Academy next Saturday matinee and night, is a comedy that keeps its audience pitched to a key of genuine if not demonstrative laughter.

It is not difficult to discuss the secret of "The Girl from Rector's" success. It is a humorous play with a tangible plot. So cleverly, however, are the incidents and persons entangled and disentangled, so rapidly does surprise follow surprise, that you are given no time to wonder. It's the best thing Paul A. Potter has ever written and that's saying a lot. The cast is one in which the players fit their parts down to the ground. Expense was the farthest point from the producer's mind.

Among those who help in the fun are Frank Darien, Sam Spedden, Alexander McKenzie, Geo. W. Paige, A. Beaumont, Claude Robinson, Ed Moore, Dorothy Dalton, Lillian Rentfrow, Margaret Dawson, Claire Paige and others. Seats will go on sale Friday.

At the Bijou.

As usual, the dread weather could not keep a large attendance away from the Bijou yesterday, so it can be said that the inauguration of the new week was a success. Artistically, it was a big and glorious triumph, because one of the best bills ever presented in Wilmington was offered and joyously received. Every one who attended was delightfully comfortable, too, and that is something well worth remembering. In other words, on the darkest days go to the Bijou to get the blues chased away. The Bijou bill today will be an especially strong one. It is going to be immense for comedy and heading the big smile-pictures will be something brand new and decidedly novel in the way of the traditional mother-in-law. It is the latest scream film, "Mother is Strong on Hypnotism," and its a howl to see how "Poor John" gets it in the neck. The topliner of the dramatic films is "In the Shadow of the Pines," and it takes the onlookers from the battle of Waterloo to the great Canadian forest. It is a heart gripping intense story.

At The Grand

The prettiest story ever told. That is what Grand patrons may expect this afternoon and evening at The Grand in the motion picture, a big Essanay film, entitled, "Grandma." A rich mother neglects her child for the demands of "high society." The child is sent to live with her grandmother while her parents are in Europe. A beautiful story well told. Another headliner at The Grand today will be "For the Honor of the Name," wherein a devoted father for the sake of the family name assumes the deeds of a wayward son. It is a deep, human interest story, that is bound to please all. In addition to these two and another big motion picture film, Prof. Farbey will render as a special violin selection, "Cavatine," by Paff. Everything is cool and pleasant at The Grand and the prices are always small.

—Daney Lewis, a negro, will be tried before Justice Harriss today on a charge of breaking into the store of Mr. Decatur Costin on Monday night one week ago.

—Ed Heyward, colored, was arrested by Constable Savage and Deputies Kelly and Horne Sunday night on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon another negro. He will be tried before Justice Harriss this morning.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Wilmington Ministerial Association was held in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday morning. Among the important matters was the appointment of a committee to arrange for carrying out of the men and religious plan in this city for the year 1912.

—Officer A. A. Nelms last night arrested Cicero Leggett, colored, on a warrant charging him with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Rob Herring, colored, as the result of an altercation between the two in a dance hall at Sixth and Castle streets. Leggett fired four shots at Herring but up to a late hour last night the officers had not been able to find out whether any of them took effect. Judging from the speed in which the negro effaced himself from the scene it is probable that Leggett's aim was bad.

—Eugene Bryant, colored, will be tried before Justice Harriss this morning on a charge of the theft of a cowhide from C. D. Gilbert. The negro was arrested by Constabel Savage accompanied by Deputies Kelly and Horne Sunday night.

Saved Many from Death

W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe its the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c. or $1.00 bottle. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

Negro Hit Another With Stone

At the Coast Line freight yards yesterday about noon quite a little commotion and excitement was caused when Tom Robinson, colored, smote another negro laborer, Zeno Wortham by name, in the head with a goodly-sized cobble stone, putting the aforesaid Zeno down for the count. Robinson was arrested by Officer C. E. Wood and the ambulance transported Wortham to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where he was reported last night to be resting very well. He is thought to be seriously wounded.

REMARKABLE RECORD.

Flesh-forming Food That Succeeds Nearly Every Time.

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it assimilated, yet in Wilmington as well as in every other town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not assimilated and fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, taken before or after meals, mingles with the food, so that it is assimilated by the system and makes rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use it for a week or ten days without a noticeable gain in weight. Statistics show that our of every one hundred people who commence the use of Samose, 98 will find a full gain in weight and restoration of health and strength.

Anyone who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can put 50c on deposit with J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., and take home a box of Samose. If the treatment does not give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh and restore strength and health, they will return the money without any questions.

COTTON MARKET WAS QUIET

Market Opened Steady At A Decline of 2 to 4 Points Owing to Rather Low European Cables—74,232 Bales

New York, November 6. — The cotton market was very quiet today and prices fluctuated irregularly within a range of about 5 points. The close was steady, net three points lower to two points higher; generally unchanged to three points lower, the only month to show any gain being September. With tomorrow a holiday in the local market while New Orleans and Liverpool will remain open and with the census report showing the amount of cotton ginned to November 1, expected early Wednesday morning, business seemed to be largely in the way of evening up for over the holiday, and practically no other feature developed.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2@4 points, owing to rather lower European cables than expected and continued talk of bearish ginning figures. Scattered covering checked the decline within a point or two of the initial figures and the market ruled generally steady, particularly in the matter of December contracts which sold a couple of points above the closing figures of Saturday during the middle of the day. Reports that some cotton was beginning to head this way from the South for delivery seemed reassuring to the December short interest, however, and that month later eased back to the closing price of last week, while later months sold two or three points, net lower.

The weather map showed considerable rain in the South over Sunday, but temperatures seemed to be about seasonable, and neither the map for the forecasts figured as a factor during the day's trading. The talk around the ring suggested that the trade is looking for a ginning report next Wednesday, indicating between 9,900,000 and 10,000,000 bales ginned to November 1st, and bears would doubtless consider such a figure if officially reported as affording strong confirmation of big crop views, as well as suggesting a continued rapid accumulation of available supplies in the interior. The fact, however, that this big supply does not appear to be having any immediate pressure against either the leading spot or futures markets appears to restrict bearish operations, while the unfavorable feature of the world's consumption and an idea that higher prices would merely make a better selling basis for Southern holders seemed to discourage buying for long account.

Receipts today, 74,232 bales, against 81,185 last week, and 54,728 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 11,354 bales, against 9,722 last year and at Houston 19,347, against 25,868 last year.

Spot, quiet. Middling, 9.40; do. gulf, 9.65; sales, 147 bales.

Futures closed steady.

AMOUNT OF COTTON NEEDED

By the Principal Foreign Countries for Manufacturing Purposes During the Cotton Year Ending September, 1912

Washington, November 6.—Estimates of American consular officers abroad of the amount of cotton required by the principal foreign countries for manufacturing purposes during the cotton year ending September 1, 1912, place the amount at 12,518,112 bales of 500 pounds each. These estimates were called for by the Department of State upon request of the Governor of Texas, who wanted the information for the conference of governors at New Orleans. The summary, however, is incomplete as a number of countries were not included for the reason that estimates were not received.

The department's information shows the total foreign demands as follows in five hundred pound bales:

Austria, 830,000; Belgium, 74,800; Canada, 135,000; China, 2,300,000, England, 2,854,512 (estimates for England and Italy refer to demands for American cotton only). France, 1,410,000; Germany, 1,756,800; Italy, 525,000; Japan, 1,100,000; Mexico, 100,000. Netherlands, 110,000; Russia, 825,000; Spain, 392,000; Switzerland, 45,000. Total, 12,518,112.

Including the normal demands of Greece, Portugal, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, British India, and all other countries, this amount would be increased by almost two million bales. England and Italy require about 750,000 bales more than estimates above for their total consumption. With these additions, the amount would be approximately 15,268,112 bales. If the American consumption were the same as that in 1910 the total amount of cotton needed during this cotton season would be about 20,000,000 bales, compared with 18,321,000 bales, consumed by mills throughout the world in 1910.

It is pointed ont, however, that the State Department's estimate of the needs of China (2,300,000) probably includes a large quantity of cotton consumed by hand looms and which is not taken into account in the Census Bureau's reports of the world's mill consumption, which shows a consumption of only 315,000 bales.

The consul general at Shanghai reports that there is a temporary demand for American coton due to the fact that many domestic producers are holding back their product and about 50,000 bales have been purchased from the United States. He thinks the present disturbance in China and the consequent money stress may curtail the consumption. If the present unrest in China continues, the American consul general at London says Lancastershire's chief market for cotton piece goods will be seriously affected.

An element of uncertainty exists in Italy the consul general at Genoa reports, owing to the war with Turkey, as that country is a large importer of Italian cotton textiles, and prolongation of the war naturally would result in closing that market to Italian mills. It is believed, however, he adds, that the large American cotton crop this year will materially reduce the price of the raw material and bring about an increased home demand in Italy, which will be sufficient to offset the loss of the trade with Turkey.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, November 6.—In a wild flurry wheat today sold lower than at any time since the government began suit against the United States Steel Corporation. The chief cause of the break in price was a false report that a Federal indictment had been returned against the Armour Grain Company as the result of an alleged corner in wheat. At the close, the market was comparatively steady, but at a decline of 1@1½ to 1⅝. Corn showed a loss of ⅝@½ from Saturday night; oats finished unchanged to ⅛@¼c. off, and hog products at an advance of a nickle to a dime.

STOCKS AGAIN ADVANCED

Movement Was Preceded by a Period of Hesitation in the Early Trading When A Majority of Stocks Sagged

New York, November 6. — Standard railroads were advanced again today. The movement was preceded by a period of hesitation in the early trading when a majority of the active stocks sagged below during the Saturday's close.

Active buying lifted the market and during the remainder of the session prices were held firmly.

Heavy realizing kept the market in check. Stocks were supplied plentifully on the advances, but the selling ceased when the market showed signs of weakening. It was assumed that owners of large amounts of stocks were taking advantage of the recent rise to reduce their holdings. The short interest was reported to have met with serious reverses. Large stop loss orders, especially in United States Steel have been uncovered on the advance, and the attack on the bears was carried on again with success today. The northwestern railroads were the conspicuous points of strength. Trading in these stocks was stimulated by reports of increasing business, owing to the movement of crops.

Among the Eastern roads, Reading, Pennsylvania, Lehigh Valley and Baltimore and Ohio stood out prominently, with gains of a point or more. Baltimore and Ohio crossed par for the first time in several weeks. United States Steel rose to above sixty, its highest prices since the violent break after filing of the government dissolution. Texas company dropped five points to 83¾, its lowest figure of the year, and a fall of more than 50 points from the year's high record. Steel makers estimated that the increase in orders during the last week amounted to nearly ten per cent. on the average. New business of the U. S. Steel Corporation since the latter part of October has been considerably larger. The bond market was firm, with a good distribution of business. American Tobacco issues were heavy in the late trading. Total sales, par value, 74,001,000. United States government bonds were unchanged, on call. Total sales of stocks were 661,900.

...OUTHPORT

...This Month Will be Sig... for Entire State—Harbor ...ts Relation to Freight Rates.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

...outhport, N. C., Nov. 6.—The op... of the railroad into Southport ... November 23rd, is the beginning of ...hat is believed will be a new and ...larger industrial era for all North Carolina.

Our State, from the coast to the ...ountains, is being recognized the ...orld over as abounding in latent opportunities of a variety and scope unequalled by any similar sized territory in the country if not the world. These opportunities are not peculiar to any one or any several localities, but every section and portion of the State has practically unlimited resources in one way or another.

We all have an immense pride in our State and realize to some extent its possibilities. But has it struck you that the whole of New England, with her wonderful capital, great cotton factories, and wagon and carriage works, is going to have to take second place to North Carolina in all these?

Have you marvelled at the industry, wealth and growth of Pittsburg, Cleveland and the great iron and steel centers of Pennsylvania and Ohio? Our State will some day rival them in the iron and steel industry.

The manufacturing centers such as Rochester, Buffalo, Columbus, Indianapolis, Detroit, Grand Rapids and the lesser cities of the East and Middle West are going to be outclassed in manufacturing by our North Carolina cities.

There is not a State east of the Rockies or north of the Mason and Dixon Line whose agricultural possibilities can compare with ours or whose lands will be as valuable in the years to come.

These facts, or rather prophecies, combine for one State the industry in manufacturing of New England and the Middle West, the wealth and development in the iron and steel industry equal or surpassing the Pennsylvania and Ohio region, and agricultural possibilities exceeding nearly every other State in the Union.

Such a growth would seem beyond the reach of attainment, but the resources of our State and its location point clearly to such a development as a logical and reasonable expectation.

The coal, iron, lime and minerals of our mountains, our wealth of clays and granite, the immense water-power available within our boundaries, our position on the coast, navigable streams, fertile soils, equitable climate and cheaper cost of living, combine to give us an advantage that all other States and sections have got to reckon with. Our natural resources and facilities will support the factories and industries for many large cities within the State. Our soils and climate combine to make it possible for the State to provide the inhabitants of these cities with all the necessities as well as most of the luxuries of life. A combination few States in the Union can offer.

This development is already under way and is increasing at a faster ratio every year, but before it can reach its highest stage or farthest development two things are necessary:

First. Greater and better transportation and railroad facilities. The railroads of the State have had many things to contend with and deserve great credit for being what they are today. Their greatest fault has been in being just a little behind the times instead of a little ahead of them. Their activity now points to a relief of this situation and the industrial growth of the State, now in progress, should increase their borrowing capacity and reverse the old condition.

The second, and greatest need to help the State to a greater and faster development is cheaper and less discriminating freight rates. Here is where Southport can help.

Today there is a logical reason for all freight rates and they are made and determined by law under supervision of the Interstate and State Commerce Commissions. New England, the East and the Middle West have a very great advantage over us in the matter of rates, and the reason for this is that their rates are based upon deep water terminals within the State or are in competition with lake rates, in the case of the States in the Middle West. All our State needs is to get rates as low as theirs is a deep water port and rate basing point within the State. This was proven very conclusively not many years ago when all the Virginia cities secured equally low rates with Norfolk on all freight originating in the West. It was further brought home to us when a short time afterwards certain North Carolina cities tried to secure the same rates as the Virginia cities and failed, for no other reason than that Norfolk is in Virginia instead of North Carolina.

A deep water harbor, with adequate terminal facilities, inside the State of North Carolina will change and lower the freight rates of the whole State.

It would be a calamity if North Carolina had no harbor capable of large development, but she has, for at Southport is, what has been pronounced by many experts, one of the finest natural harbors on the whole Atlantic coast.

On November 23rd, the first train over the first railroad into Southport is to be made the occasion of a grand celebration and its harbor to the State and the world. It is the beginning of the end of North Carolina's discriminating freight rates and we believe it will add an impetus to the growth of every city in the State, and mark the beginning of the larger developments that are coming.

It is proposed to make the 23rd a red letter day and to do justice to the occasion the whole State is invited to take part and help celebrate. People of prominence from all over the country are expected in Southport on that day and invitations are to be extended to all the public men in North Carolina to be guests of Southport at that time.

The programme is being arranged and it is going to be one that will awaken old Southport from her 100 years' sleep, and focus the eyes of the State and the world on a new-born ocean port.

...der at Shanghai.

...6.—The most inter... in Shanghai today ...lation of the organiza... cabinet by the revolu... Wu Ting Fang, who for... post of minister at ... been appointed as ... foreign affairs. Wang ... trade and commerce; Shen ... finances; Li Ping Hsu, civ... administrator; Li Hing Su, civil administrator; Lee Hsieh, military administrator.

The appointments, however, are not taken seriously, the appointees denying knowledge of the action of the revolutionaries, except in the case of the civil administrator, who has been acting in that official capacity throughout.

Wu Ting Fang, while declining to acknowledge any participation in the revolutionary administration of Shanghai, openly sympathizes with it, although criticising some of the methods. He is bitterly opposed to the Manchu clique in Peking.

Dr. Wu says if the revolution hopes to win it must scrupulously regard the rights of foreign nations and individuals. This as time progresses, will be found difficult, because of the conflicting views held in different provinces.

The government at Peking has instructed the viceroy of Nanking not to oppose the reformers. Nanking, therefore, is expected to turn over to the revolutionaries in a few days.

Perfect order prevails in Shanghai.

FILE AN APPEAL

Containing Seventeen Bills of Exception to Save the Life of Beattie

Richmond, Va., Nov. 6.—Public interest in the case of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., convicted of wife murder and sentenced to die November 24th, has been revived with the filing by his lawyers of an appeal from the decision of the Circuit Court of Chesterfield county.

The petition contained seventeen bills of exception. Of these the most important are those relating to the refusal of Judge A. Watson, to strike from the records that part of the closing argument of Lawyer Louis O. Wendenburg, in which the speaker, addressing the jury, said that had the jury found Beattie not guilty of the murder of his wife they would then visit the graves of Jeter Phillips, Thomas Cluverius, and Samuel McCue, disinter the bodies of the three murderers and apologize to them. The defense claims that this was an unwarranted appeal to passion and to prejudice. Another related to that part of the testimony of Mrs. Owen, mother of the murdered Louise Owen Beattie, in which Mrs. Owen was permitted to testify to a conversation had between herself and her daughter about the life of Henry Beattie was leading. Four other bills of exceptions relate to the qualifications of jurors and the rest to technical points.

Lawyer Hill Carter today was closeted with Judge Keith, president of the Supreme Court of Appeals at the Supreme Court offices.

Mexico City, Nov. 6.—Francisco I. Madero took the oath of President of Mexico at the Chamber of Deputies and placer across his breast the tricolor insignia of the chief executive today. This afternoon the oath of office was administered to the eight members of his cabinet. At the same time Francisco Leon de LaBarra, who has governed the country as provisional president since the day Gen. Diaz left the capital for Europe boarded a special train for Vera Cruz from whence he too, will sail for Europe on a diplomatic mission.

The personnel of the cabinet with which President Madero begins his administration follows:

Foreign relations, Manuel Calero; interior, Abram Gonzales; justice, Manuel Vasquez Tagle; education, Miguel Diaz Lombardo; communications, Manuel Bonilla; finance, Ernest Madero; war, Gen. Jose Gonzales Salas; fomento, Rafael Hernandez.

Upon the return of De LaBarra from Italy, which will not be for some months, it is expected he will take the portfolio of the foreign office, Calerro going as ambassador to Washington. Tonight public buildings were brilliantly illuminated. The new President took no part in the public manifestations. Although a holiday there was no serious disorder.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 6.—Dr. John A. Hillsman, 78 years old, prominent in Virginia as a physician, Confederate veteran and Mason, died in his home here today. He was regimental surgeon of the 44th Virginia Infantry.

PILOT ASSAULTED

Mate on Government Dredge—After Cape Fear Pepper—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, Nov. 4.—Much indignation and discussion has been caused by an assault on one of the oldest and most prominent gentlemen of the city, by a youngster who should have had more respect for the age of his victim, if self-respect and the gentleman's code were not sufficient to cause him to consider his act.

I. S. Davis, a mate on the government dredge "Cape Fear," working on the bar, under the direction of Capt. L. H. Rand, attacked Captain L. J. Pepper, as the latter was coming from the postoffice where he had gone to receive the mail of the Southport Pilots' Association.

Davis is said to have approached Captain Pepper from the rear and according to the testimony of an eyewitness, struck the captain. The attack was so sudden and unexpected that the captain, who had an arm full of papers, and his pipe in the other hand, was unprepared to defend himself. Not satisfied, Davis, according to his own testimony, again struck the captain as his back was turned in the act of recovering his pipe and mail, which were scattered over the sidewalk.

The attack grew out of a fancied wrong which young Davis imagined had been done him, personally by the Pilots' Association, because they investigated a rumor that Pilot I. S. Davis, Sr., had gone to the Dredge "Cape Fear" and waited aboard her for the arrival at the bar of a tramp steamer, which was due. If this rumor was true the pilot would not have been entitled to the pilotage fee, as he would have received assistance from a boat other than a regularly licensed pilot boat and as he would have, thereby, acted directly contrary to the rules and regulations, as passed by the local board of commissioners of pilotage for the Cape Fear river. Several members of the Southport association, some much younger than Capt. Pepper (who is one of the oldest residents of the city, having lived in this locality during his three score and ten years), had inquired of the members of the crew on the Cape Fear concerning the action of the pilot on the night the steamer arrived. This Davis resented, believing he should have been the one to whom the Pilots' Association should have appealed for information. In the city court he was fined the limit of $14.30 for his attack.

Captain Charles Neuf-Eglise, master of the government steamer, Gen. G. W. Getty, well-known in this port, has gone with his family to Baltimore to enjoy a twenty days' vacation. This is the first vacation the captain has had since his arrival in this district, two and a half years ago.

Much activitiy is seen in building circles at the present time. J. H. Prinson, of Hampton, Va., has a force of carpenters and painters completing the two officer's quarters; C. T. Taylor, of Hampton, has plumbing and steam fitting forces on the same buildings. A. J. Robbins is building the concrete walks and roadways around the same buildings. A. D. Granger Co., has a force of electricians and mechinists on the electric lighting contract. The representative of the Sperry Engineering Co., of New York, Mr. Baker, has arrived to look after the addition to the ice plant and the installation of the necessary machinery to change the present system to an electrical system. Price Furpless has undertaken the repairing, cleaning and repainting of the large 60,000-gallon water tank.

Captain H. L. Landers is crating and packing his furniture preparatory to shipping it to his new station, Fort Dade, Fla., which is 30 miles from Tampa.

Captain W. B. Wade will be master of the Gen. Getty during the absence of Captain Neuf-Eglise.

SOLDIER BOY IN TROUBLE.

W. J. Parker in Prison Charged With Stealing Silverware.

Arrested last night about 9 o'clock at his lodging quarters on Market street by Sergeant E. J. Grimsley on a warrant charging him with the larceny of some silverware from Lucile Garrison, an inmate of the house of Gussie Greer, No. 1116 Chesnut street, W. J. Parker, who is said to be a soldier from Fort Monroe, spent last night in the city prison, and this morning will be placed on trial in the Recorder's court. Report was made to the police shortly after 8 o'clock last night of the robbery and Sergeant Grimsley went out and made an investigation. Ascertaining the name of the man said to have committed the theft, he secured a warrant for him and later arrested him at his boarding house. Parker seemed to be under the influence of some intoxicant, the police said. The silverware stolen is valued at $20.

NEW BRICK BUILING.

Handsome Structure to Go Up on South Front Street.

Workmen have begun tearing away the old building belonging to Hon. John D. Bellamy on Front, between Dock and Orange streets, almost opposite the market house, preparatory to the erection on the site of a handsome three-story brick structure, which will contain two store rooms. The building will be erected in accordance with plans drawn by Mr. H. E. Bonitz, the well known architect, and he will have the supervision of the construction. The front will be of tapestry brick, Indiana limestone trimming. The structure will be of 80 feet deep and 16 feet wide and will have all modern conveniences. The stores will be used for mercantile purposes. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 and it is hoped to have it ready for occupancy by Spring.

Beat well and bake in two pans.

During his pastorate the church has steadily expanded and its growth has been noted in all departments.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 6.—Stepping from the rear platform of a trolley car, a shot gun in his hand, was accidentally discharged and William Bracey, a street car conductor, off for a few hours' hunting, today had the side of his face torn away. He is in the Petersburg hospital in a critical condition. One of his hands, between the gun's muzzle and his head, probably prevented instant death.
